Scientists Disarm Atomic Weapon After It Misfires

Three Men Climb 500-Foot Tower; Two Power Cables Disconnected

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev., June 28 (AP)—A team of scientists pulled the teeth of an atomic weapon today after the device mis-fired because of power failure.

Three men climbed the 500-foot tower where the weapon lay and quickly made it harmless.

Miller Fails To Knock Out His Conviction

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—Playwright Arthur Miller failed today to knock out his contempt of Congress conviction on the basis of the Supreme Court's Watkins decision.

U. S. Dist. Judge Charles F. McLaughlin ruled the Watkins decision did not cover one of the two contempt counts upon which he adjudged Miller guilty May 31.

Judge McLaughlin, however, said the Watkins ruling applied to the other count and he acquitted Miller on it.

But as a practical matter, this was an empty victory for the playwright.

For sentencing purposes, judges have invariably treated a series of refusals to answer questions before congressional committees as one offense. Therefore Miller still faces a sentence which, in the discretion of the judge, could range up to a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Judge McLaughlin said he would not impose sentence until he returns from a vacation in two or three weeks.

The impact of the Watkins decision was felt in another court-room today in the case of Dr. Otto Nathan of New York, executor of the estate of the late Albert Einstein.

Dist. Judge Edward M. Curran set aside Nathan's contempt of Congress conviction on one of three counts, and asked opposing lawyers to file legal briefs outlining their positions as to the applicability of the Watkins ruling to the Nathan case.

The Supreme Court ruled in the case of John T. Watkins, a labor organizer, that he had not been given a fair opportunity to know whether he was within his rights in refusing to answer questions he contended were not pertinent to an inquiry into communism in labor unions. Among other things, the court said that in such a case the committee must explain clearly the pertinency of the questions.

Miller's attorneys promptly served notice that they will appeal and carry the case to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Po River Recedes, Damage Is High

ROVIGO, Italy, June 28 (AP)—The muddy waters of Italy's flood-burst Po River began rolling back today from the fertile delta farmland, leaving behind crop and property damage estimated at 20 million dollars.

Emergency squads reported that flood levels were dropping gradually throughout the region and that families are moving back to Polesine Ariano Island.

Earlier this month, floods, landslides and a cyclone killed 16 persons in northwest Italy, but there were no deaths in the Rovigo Po estuary area flood.

Restriction Voted In FBI Files Bill

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—A Senate Judiciary subcommittee voted swiftly and unanimously today to restrict the sweep of a Supreme Court decision opening FBI files to the defense in some criminal cases.

The subcommittee approved a bill, after a one-hour hearing, to permit the inspection of only that FBI information which a judge holds to be pertinent to a trial.

Atty. Gen. Brownell asked for the fast action, saying "a grave emergency in law enforcement" had come about as a result of the June 3 decision in the Jencks case.

The legislation is needed, he told the senators, to avoid "serious miscarriage of justice in federal criminal cases."

In the case causing concern, the Supreme Court threw out the conviction of Clinton E. Jencks, a labor leader who had been found guilty of filing a false non-Communist affidavit.

The bill approved by the subcommittee would let a trial judge examine any reports demanded by a defendant, decide whether any portions of the reports had a bearing on the case being tried, and delete everything that was not pertinent.

David W. Kendall, assistant secretary of the Treasury, told the subcommittee the legislation was needed to insure successful prosecution of narcotics, smuggling, tax and counterfeiting cases.

Kendall said the Treasury has a great many cases pending whose loss or dismissal "might permit dangerous and inimical felons to go at large."

Treasury's files would be as much subject to the bill as those of FBI agents. Treasury men handle a variety of criminal cases.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) interjected during Brownell's testimony that it seemed to him that the Supreme Court decision leaves it to the defense to decide what it can look at, and opens the way to "unrestrained fishing expeditions."

Chairman O'Malley (D-Wyo.) said different interpretations by lower courts emphasize the need for legislation to set up standards "so the road will be clear for prosecution of criminals" without revealing any information from government files except what is relevant in the particular case.

The bill approved by the subcommittee would let a trial judge examine any reports demanded by a defendant, decide whether any portions of the reports had a bearing on the case being tried, and delete everything that was not pertinent.

Man Executed For Slashing Boy To Death

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., June 28 (AP)—An embalmer, with a fascination for knives, was executed today for slashing a boy to death.

Thomas Lynn Johnston, 25, of Sacramento, Calif., carried a Bible and appeared calm and resigned as he stepped into the gas chamber.

Johnston was executed for knifeing 7-year-old Ronald Wendorf in a Sacramento theater 17 months ago to "see how he would react."

Johnston said he got an "urge to cut something" as the boy passed him in the theater. Police files showed the 206-pound embalmer had a long-standing fancy for collecting sharp knives.

Johnston was born in Miles City, Mont. He formerly lived in Billings, Mont.

Commies Protest Air "Intrusion"

LONDON, June 28 (AP)—Red China and North Korea protested to the Korean Military Armistice Commission today against "repeated air intrusions" by U. S. warplanes, Peiping radio reported.

The broadcast said the most recent incident was June 25 when five flights of U. S. planes appeared over North Korea. Peiping said the U. S. members of the commission were asked to investigate "these violations of the armistice agreement" and take action.

NEWCASTLE, England, June 28 (AP)—Miss Edith Barlow, who was 22 inches tall and claimed to be Britain's shortest woman, died in her tiny circus trailer today. She was 25 and spent her life as an attraction at local fairs and circuses.

Abrupt End To Nickerson Trial Is Seen

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., June 28 (AP)—An abrupt end to the half-secret court-martial of Army Col. John C. Nickerson Jr., was in sight tonight.

Despite the fact that the defense had planned to call 14 witnesses, it rested its case at 3:30 p.m. today after the 10-man court-martial board had heard only four.

A few minutes later the prosecutor, Lt. Col. William G. Barry, announced that the government also rested, but would call Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, commanding general of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency to the stand tomorrow.

After hearing Medaris the court-martial board presumably will retire to fix Nickerson's punishment.

He already has pleaded guilty to 15 counts of laxity in handling secret defense data. If given the maximum sentence he could be dismissed from the service and imprisoned for 30 years.

Oddly, the abrupt moves came after a long and secret huddle by the defense and prosecution attorneys and after a closed session of the court-martial board.

To date in this strange, four-day old court-martial Nickerson and others have offered a great deal of opinion testimony on what they say is the Air Force's efforts to seize the Army's long-range ballistic missile program.

Perhaps significantly, however, there was not a single piece of written evidence introduced in open court to substantiate Nickerson's thesis, though in secret session defense exhibits reached to the alphabet number "Q."

Medaris presumably will testify as to Nickerson's capabilities as an officer since he was his superior and whether, in light of the court-martial, he would like to have Nickerson return to work on the missile program.

Before court went into closed session it heard a last charge from Nickerson that he believed the Air Force would accept an inferior ballistic missile before it would buy the Army's better one.

Dulles Says Red China Is UN Menace

Admittance Would Destroy The Group He Tells Convention

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28 (AP)—Granting membership to Communist China would lead to the "destruction" of the United Nations, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles declared today.

"Communist Russia, with veto power, already seriously limits the ability of the United Nations to serve its intended purposes," Dulles said. "Were Communist China also to become a permanent, veto-wielding member of the Security Council, that would, I fear, implant in the United Nations the seeds of its own destruction."

Delegates Applaud

The secretary made this strong statement of opposition at the international convention of the Lions Club in the very city where the United Nations was born. Delegates broke into applause seven times during the 30-minute speech which was televised nationally. A standing ovation sent him smiling from the platform.

Recognition of the Soviet Union by the United States in 1933 set no precedent necessitating recognition of Communist China now, Dulles said.

"Soviet Russia, in 1933, had a decade of peaceful nonaggressive relations with neighboring countries, while Communist China's past record is one of armed aggression," he declared.

"The Soviet regime seemed to want peace for the future. In the case of Communist China, the situation is quite the reverse."

He said the Red Chinese ambassador to Geneva, in talks concerning the Far East situation, "finally stated frankly that his regime contemplated using armed force to take Taiwan (Formosa) unless they could get it in some other way."

Dire Consequences

American recognition of Communist China would lead to dire consequences, the secretary declared.

"The many mainland Chinese, who by Mao Tse-tung's own recent admission seek to change the nature of their government, would be immensely discouraged," Dulles said.

"The millions of overseas Chinese would feel that they have no free China to which to look," Dulles said. "If the United States recognized the Chinese Communist regime, millions of overseas Chinese in free Asian countries would, reluctantly, turn to acceptance of the guiding direction of the Communist regime."

"The Republic of China, now on Taiwan, would feel betrayed by its friend."

Red China's Seat Backed

LONDON, June 28 (AP)—The leadership of 10 British Commonwealth nations agreed today Red China sooner or later must be given a seat in the United Nations because the Peiping regime is here to stay. This view, adopted on the third day of a Commonwealth meeting here, was diametrically opposed to a major statement of policy by U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in San Francisco today. He said Communist rule is only a "passing phase" in China and that to seat the Chinese Communists in the world organization would be against the interests of the United Nations and of the United States.

British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan, aided by Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd, warned that Red Chinese influence is spreading through Southeast Asia. They said some territories—including the British colony of Hong Kong, the emerging state of Malaysia and Singapore—stand in serious peril of Red Chinese penetration.

Four of the Commonwealth nations have recognized the Peiping government: Britain, Ceylon, India and Pakistan. The new African state of Ghana is expected to do so shortly. Australia, Canada, New Zealand and South Africa have not done so. The 10th Commonwealth nation present here—the Central African Federation—is not yet wholly independent.

U.S. Housewife Begins Fight Against Prices

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—The housewife apparently is beginning to take the fight against inflation into her own hands.

Ewan Clague, the government's top price-and-wage analyst, said today the latest information reveals that retail prices of some goods—apart from foods and services—have been dropping.

"There are definite signs of consumer resistance to high prices," said Clague, commissioner of the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The steel price increase of $6 a ton posted by U. S. Steel Corp. last night should have a relatively small and considerably delayed impact on the cost of living, Clague said.

"I do not see how it could have much effect on consumer prices for a year or so," he told an interviewer.

There were subsurface indications in last Tuesday's consumer price index — even though it showed that living costs in May touched a new peak for the ninth successive month—that consumers are balking at the steady markup of price tags.

"Prices of refrigerators, automobiles, furniture and some other consumers' durable goods are dropping a little," Clague pointed out.

"Food prices rose as they always do at this season of the year. They will decline in August. If you eliminate food from the index, prices neither rose nor fell in May."

"Other commodity prices actually dropped 0.4 per cent. I think consumer resistance certainly was a factor in that decline, even though it was offset by a continued rise in the cost of services."

Other government economists have pointed out that the "consumer services" in many cases represent spending over which the consumer has little or no control from month to month—public transportation, rent, doctors' and dentists' bills, utility rates, repair charges and haircuts, for example.

The things sold from shelves and showrooms, however, are immediately vulnerable to the buying mood of the public.

Young Father Sees Error As Hospital Mixes Babies

DALLAS, June 28 (AP)—A flustered young father won an argument with a maternity ward nurse last night—and unraveled a baby mixup that had left two mothers with the wrong infants.

Royce D. Dickson, 23, said he went to the hospital to take home his wife, Zerna, 19, and their two-day old daughter, Charlett Larrane. Nervously, he watched a nurse swaddle a sleeping infant and hand over the blanketed bundle.

"That's not my baby," he said he protested.

"Don't be ridiculous," he quoted the nurse as saying. He said she held the baby beside his wife's face and chided: "She looks exactly like her mother."

Ten minutes and one mile away they made a startling discovery. A name-tag on the sleeping tot's wrist bore another family's name.

167 Reported Dead In Wake Of Hurricane

Armada Of 'Copters, Boats Roam Flooded Areas Along Coast

LAKE CHARLES, La., June 28 (AP)—Mammoth tidal waves — receding slowly at nightfall — swamped the Louisiana coast today in the wake of Hurricane Audrey, leaving at least 167 dead and hundreds injured.

Maj. Gen. Raymond Hufft, state Civil Defense commander, said there were 150 known dead in the Cameron area alone and "it may be a week to 10 days" before the final count is finished. Seventeen other victims were counted elsewhere.

An armada of helicopters and fleets of boats roamed through the flooded Cameron area south of here in the southwest corner of the state. A 20-mile strip along the coast is below sea level.

Cameron Parish—county—Sheriff O. B. Carter predicted the death toll would be at least 200.

Ken Dixon, managing editor of the Lake Charles American Press, said two-thirds of the victims' bodies would be swept into the Gulf of Mexico by the receding tide-waters.

Hints Scope Of Disaster

First hint of the scope of the disaster came early this morning when Deputy Sheriff D. P. Vincent, rescued by boat from Cameron, said he felt "3,000 or 4,000 drowned" there.

Red Cross sources said about 1,000 persons stayed in the parish when Audrey struck yesterday.

Bill Mertena, an American Press reporter, toured the Cameron area by plane and helicopter.

He said Cameron was about 90 per cent destroyed, with "at least 50 per cent of the buildings demolished completely and many others so badly damaged they were a total loss."

Mertena covered almost 80 miles of coastline in his flights and reported only one home out of every 25 still standing. "Only projecting foundations and chimneys told where there had been houses," he said. "The resort community of Holly Beach no longer exists. It was completely wiped off the map."

Bodies of dead cattle, horses and wild animals littered stretches of the marshlands.

Mertena said he counted more than 75 cars scattered along roads where people had made vain efforts to flee. The fate of the occupants was unknown.

Gen. Hufft, after his tour of the area, said bodies of the dead animals constituted a major health problem.

Hundreds Are Evacuated

Hundreds were evacuated by boat today. Sheriff Carter released his estimate of 200 deaths after evacuations began.

Four hundred persons were rescued on one boat alone, the majority picked off rafts, trees, remnants of rooftops. Some were swimming or just floating when spotted by rescuers.

John Washington, a 32-year-old Cameron man, said, "I was living in a rooming house and it just tore down."

Mrs. Wade C. Haley, 26-year-old Cameron mother, said she and her husband and four children were in their trailer home when the hurricane hit.

"I don't know where the trailer is now. It was already floating before we got out of it. A boat picked us up at a two-story house later and took us to the court-house."

Young Father Sees Error As Hospital Mixes Babies

And back at the hospital, things were popping.

"That other mother had looked at her baby when they brought her to her room and decided it was not hers," Dickson said. "She checked the baby's wrist and saw our name spelled out on those little blue beads."

Hospital attendants phoned police. A squad of officers sped to halt the Dicksons.

But the husky, red-haired Ford plant assembly man appeared seconds later grinning at the hospital.

The next minute both babies were back with their mothers. Hospital attendants declined to name the nurse or the other mother.

Daniels Is First Person To Die In Md. Gas Chamber

Groundwork For Children's Hospital Laid

BALTIMORE, June 28 (P)—Eddie Lee Daniels, slayer of his former boss during the $407 holdup of a Silver Spring car wash, was put to death tonight in Maryland's new gas chamber.

The 28-year-old Washington Negro entered the chamber and was strapped into the steel chair. The gas pellets were dropped at 10:10 p. m. A prison spokesman said the last movements were seen at 10:17 and Daniels was pronounced dead at 10:23.

Daniels was the first person ever executed by gas in Maryland. Only two hours earlier, Gov. McKeldin issued a statement denying executive clemency to Daniels.

The gas chamber has replaced the gallows as the State's method of capital punishment for criminals convicted after June 1, 1956. Daniels was convicted June 12, 1956.

A Montgomery County jury deliberated only 13 minutes before finding him guilty in the slaying of Arthur E. Chyatte, co-owner of a Silver Spring car wash company. The conviction was upheld by the Court of Appeals.

In denying Daniels executive clemency, McKeldin said Daniels' guilt "is not open to any reasonable doubt, and no mitigating circumstances are presented by the actual facts."

The governor said psychological testing of Daniels showed no psychosis or other pathological development and that he "has good contact with reality." He quoted psychiatrists as saying "his potential abilities lie within the normal range" and "nothing in his attitude was indicative of a mentally disturbed individual."

McKeldin said the Daniels' case is "virtually indistinguishable" from one involving Lott Glover, 33-year-old Washington Negro who was hanged in 1953 for the murder of a Beltsville filling station attendant.

"As in that case," the governor said, "I have been unable to find any mitigating facts or any justification whatever for imposition of less than the supreme penalty for Daniels' crime."

Daniels is only the fourth criminal to be executed during McKeldin's two terms in office. The governor has spared the lives of 12 men—six convicted murderers and six rapists.

Daniels admitted at his trial that he went to the car wash business, where he formerly worked, to rob it. He said Chyatte rushed at him and the gun went off as they grappled.

Wilbur Wade, chief of Anne Arundel County police, said "good (finger) prints" taken from the car are being processed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He didn't know when a report will be forthcoming from the FBI.

The woman, Mrs. Margaret V. Harold, was slain Wednesday as she sat in a car in the lane with M. Sgt. Roy D. Hudson. Hudson is stationed at Ft. Meade where the 36-year-old mother worked as a clerk in 2nd Army Headquarters.

Hudson told police an unkempt man posing as a caretaker approached his car and told him he couldn't park there. The man asked for a ride, Hudson said, and despite a refusal he climbed into the rear seat.

The man pulled a revolver and suddenly, without provocation, shot Mrs. Harold in the head, Hudson said. He said he escaped by throwing open the door of the car and rolling out.

U.S. Jets Fly Over So. Korea In Might Display

SEOUL, June 28 (P)—United States jet bombers and faster-than-sound fighters roared over South Korea today. Military officials here and in Japan said privately they considered the flights a direct result of a United Nations Command decision to bring in new arms in the face of a large-scale Communist military buildup in North Korea.

The U.N. Command announced a week ago it was allotting new arms to South Korea to match the Red buildup. But U.S. Air Force officials said the new aircraft would not be based in Korea, and emphasized flights over this country would be of "routine training nature."

Under the terms of the 1953 Korean truce, the United States has based only F86 Sabre Jet fighters and slower piston-engine aircraft in Korea. Combat aircraft attached to the U.S. 5th Air Force, based in Japan, include sleek supersonic F100 Super Sabre Jets and B57 and B66 bombers. The B57 is the U.S. version of the British twin-jet Canberra. The B66 is a Douglas-built light bomber.

The Super Sabre Jets flashed over this war-battered capital at midday, and later a flight of six B57s roared over Seoul. The Air Force said the planes would return to their Japanese bases, and would not land in Korea except for refueling or emergency.

A spokesman for the U.N. delegation to the Joint Military Armistice Commission said the armistice clause prohibiting new weapons did not specifically prohibit training flights by any type of aircraft. This statement might be taken to mean the U.N. Command considers flights of Japanese-based planes over Korea technically do not constitute introduction of new weapons into this country.

However, up to now, so far as is known, the U.N. Command has avoided any flights of new-type planes.

Man Is Killed In Bus Crash

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., June 28 (P)—A New York-bound bus rammed into the rear of a tractor-trailer loaded with machinery on the New Jersey Turnpike early today. A man sitting in the right front seat was killed and his wife critically injured. The bus driver and 12 other passengers were sent to hospitals, none in serious condition.

The man, Arthur Foxwell Tyler, 63, of Baltimore, and his wife, Marie Price Tyler, 65, were thrown from the bus through the front windshield and became entangled in the moving rear wheels of the truck. It took nearly an hour to free them.

"It was a horrible nightmare," said Mrs. Anne Owens, 24, of Providence, R. I., a passenger who was thrown from her seat and fainted after managing to crawl out of the bus. She suffered multiple lacerations and a possible fracture of the left leg.

State Police were able to furnish few details of how the crash took place.

The driver of the bus, Bernard Moran, 32, of Wayne, Pa., suffered a fractured knee and abrasions. Police said they couldn't question him because he was in shock.

Thomas Salley, 54, of Jersey City, driver of the truck, said he was doing about 40 miles an hour at the time of the crash.

State troopers who patrol the highway said there was little traffic on the six-lane road and the night was clear. Both vehicles were in the right hand lane.

RFC Passes Quietly From National Scene

WASHINGTON, June 28 (P)—The Reconstruction Finance Corp., in its free-wheeling prime the biggest corporation the world has ever seen, passed quietly out of existence today.

While a few hundred government employees milled about the entrance, a big brass nameplate was taken down from a concrete and marble structure housing the huge government lending agency established in 1932.

Today was the last day of business for RFC. As of Sunday it passes into the limbo of government agencies that have outlived their usefulness.

It will be many years, however, before RFC's last account is closed. The corporation's functions have been transferred to such other government departments as the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Small Business Administration, General Services Administration and the Treasury.

On the day it died RFC had about 100 employees, and some $80 million dollars in loans and securities still to be liquidated. That's all that was left of the financial giant that pumped some $50 billion dollars into the American economy in the depression days of the 30s, and then went on to organize, finance and even operate badly needed war plants in the 40s.

The RFC came into being in January, 1932, when President Hoover signed a bill just passed by Congress. It went into action immediately and loosed a flood of new financing into the nation's economy.

It poured dollars by the carload into distressed banks, railroads and industries. It made loans to farmers on crops and property. Its wealth touched every facet of American life.

As the RFC nameplate was being taken down today, two secretaries were discussing a report that an official government statement on the demise of the corporation would be distributed to all employees.

"Oh, we'll get a copy of it, all right," said one. "But what are we going to do with it? We haven't got any place to file it."

The body is at the Boal Funeral Home where the rosary will be recited tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

J. MELVIN MACDONALD

MARTINSBURG—James Melvin MacDonald, 55, died Thursday at his home in Baltimore following an illness of a year.

Born in Martinsburg, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George MacDonald, he had been vice president of a District of Columbia insurance firm for 25 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Nell (Luft) MacDonald; two sons, Dr. James M. MacDonald Jr., San Diego, and George M. MacDonald, at home; a brother, Charles S. MacDonald, Washington, and two sisters, Mrs. Raymond J. Lowry and Mrs. Walter Greene, both of Martinsburg.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Monday morning at St. Joseph's Catholic Church here and interment will be in the parish cemetery.

MISS ELIZABETH DONAHOE

BEDFORD, Pa. — Miss Elizabeth L. Donahoe died yesterday at her home, 545 South Juliana Street.

Born in Bedford Township, she was a daughter of the late Jonathan and Lucy (Compton) Donahoe.

She was a member of St. Thomas Catholic Church. Miss Donahoe taught school in Bedford at one time, and until her retirement in 1951 was employed with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads in Washington.

She is survived by a brother, Joe Donahoe, Bedford, and two sisters, Miss Katherine Donahoe, also of Bedford, and Mrs. R. F. Bridges, Beans Cove, Pa.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Monday at 9 a. m. at St. Thomas Church by Rev. Edward F. McConnell, pastor. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

The body will be at the Barefoot Funeral Home here after 7 p. m. today.

Ike Arrives At Gettysburg

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 28 (P)—President Eisenhower arrived at his farm home today for a long weekend and observance of his 41st wedding anniversary Monday.

The President's limousine pulled in at the farm at 3:55 p. m., after an 85-mile drive from Washington. The trip took two hours and five minutes.

Mrs. Eisenhower arrived by automobile from the White House earlier in the afternoon. She and the President plan to return to the capital Monday evening or Tuesday morning.

Earlier today, President and Mrs. Eisenhower took off their shoes to participate in the dedication of a minareted Islam Center in the heart of Washington.

In a brief speech, the President told officials of the 15 Moslem countries represented here that they are welcome, under the American Constitution "and in American hearts," to erect a religious edifice of their own in the national capital.

"Indeed, America would fight with her whole strength for your right to have here your own church and worship according to your own conscience," Eisenhower said.

The Islam Center, a building of delicate design standing among the embassies on Massachusetts Ave., contains a mosque, a library, a museum, a lecture hall and offices.

McKeldin To Seek Post As Mayor

BALTIMORE, June 28 (P)—Gov. McKeldin has said publicly for the first time that he intends to run for mayor of Baltimore in 1959, barring unforeseen developments.

McKeldin, a Republican, is serving his second term as governor and cannot succeed himself. He previously served as mayor here.

CHARLES T. WILSON

HAGERSTOWN—Charles Trev. Wilson, 78-year-old retired employee of the Western Maryland Railway Company, died Wednesday in Washington County Hospital following a brief illness.

An employee of the Western Maryland for 43 years until his retirement in 1944, he had been supervisor of bridges and building for the rail firm. He held membership in the Western Maryland Relief Department and Potomac Lodge 100, AF & AM of Cumberland.

Services were conducted yesterday at the Minnich Funeral Home and interment was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

JAMES H. LOVE

LONA CONING—James Hugh Love, 52, a former resident, died Thursday at his home in Frederick following an illness of 18 months.

Born at Lonaconing, a son of Mrs. Mary Love, Lonaconing, and the late Hugh Love, he had been employed by the Potomac Edison in Frederick and was formerly associated with the Blue Ridge Bus Lines there.

Mr. Love was a member of Georges Creek Valley Lodge 99, AF & AM of Lonaconing.

Surviving, besides his mother, are his widow, Mrs. Alice (Morgan) Love, supervisor of elementary schools in Frederick County, and a daughter, Miss Alice Love, at home.

IN TOKEN OF APPRECIATION—On behalf of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club Mrs. June Nader presented a check for $50 to Officer James Swan for the Police Boys Club of Cumberland. It was the proceeds from a Plan B Sanctioned Match held by the club, and given to the Police Boys Club in appreciation for the use of its club room for meetings of the Junior Kennel Club, which the Upper Potomac Valley group sponsors.

Sonja Hounshell To Be Bride Of J. W. Osbourne

Miss Sonja Eileen Hounshell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Hounshell, Cresaptown, will become the bride of James Willard Osbourne, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Osbourne, 613 Greene Street, tonight.

Cresap Club Honors Two Members

Plans to participate in the Cresaptown Community Council Fun Festival were formulated and two members were honored at the meeting of the Cresap Homemakers Club Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harold Lewis.

The homemakers will work with the Methodist Church on the bake sale at the festival, which is to be held July 15-20 on the Cresaptown School playground. Proceeds will be used for recreational activities. Members also voted to have a float in the parade during the festival. Mrs. John Thompson was named chairman for the sale and Mrs. David Scollick, float chairman.

In recognition of long attendance at Short Course, Mrs. Lena Robinette was presented a silver sash for her 25-year attendance; and Mrs. Edward Lewis a reed basket of handkerchiefs in the form of a bouquet of flowers for 20 years' attendance.

Mrs. Arlie Borror presided and opened the meeting with the poem, "Happy the Home Where God is There." It was followed by the pledge to the Flag. Mrs. Herbert Heineman gave the story of the hymn of the month, "This Is My Father's World." Roll call was answered with favorite frozen foods. A report on RWSC was given by Mrs. Gordon Miller, delegate. Announcement was made that the club will have a demonstration on repairing spring cushions on Wednesday, during the Cumberland Fair, August 19-24. The meeting concluded with the singing of "Home on the Range." Luncheon was served with a four tiered cake, decorated in white and silver, decorating the table. Mrs. Robinette was asked to serve it.

Twenty members and Miss Evelyn May, a guest, attended. The next meeting will be July 25 in the form of an outing at the Celanese pool.

Class Selects Project

A record player for the nursery department of Centre Street Methodist Church was selected as a project by the Wednesday Bible Class at the meeting earlier in the week. Mrs. Eugene Hopkins presided.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Ray Blase, who also read "A Day in June." Refreshments were served by Mrs. Leo Leasure and Mrs. Charles Eyer. Others present were Mrs. S. A. McCullough, Mrs. James Hosack, Mrs. Roscoe McElfish, Mrs. Vernon Cost, Mrs. Harry Simpson and Mrs. L. C. Millholland III.

Allegany '32 To Honor Classmate

Allegany High School class of 1932 will celebrate its 25th anniversary at its first reunion, which will be held July 6. It is to be in the form of a dinner and dance at the Cumberland Country Club, beginning at 6:30.

Contributions for the David Kauffman Memorial Fund will be used to place a plaque at one of the fountains in the new gymnasium at Allegany, and the remainder of the money will be used for something pertaining to athletics, in which the late Mr. Kauffman was interested. President of the senior class and Student Council in 1932, the late Mr. Kauffman also was captain of the football team, and a class officer his junior year.

Zack Laney, Bay Village, Ohio, will preside at the dinner. There will be no principal speaker as an informal evening is planned. Different members of the class will be called upon to speak for a few minutes extemporaneously.

Dancing will be to music by the Townsmen.

Over 100 reservations have been made. The deadline for taking them has been extended to July 5, and are to be made with Mrs. Louise Gaston Nicklin.

At a meeting Thursday evening at the board of education building reports were given by the chairmen. They are William L. Wilson, souvenir booklet; Mrs. Catherine Nave, lapel cards; Mrs. Mary Jo Bruce, special awards; Bernard Beaky, decorations; William Gilchrist, program; Russell Ponton, music.

Society Presents Program

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Murley's Branch Church met this month at the home of Mrs. Paul Browning. Mrs. Paul Robinette conducted the devotionals, using as her theme, "The Resurgence of World Religion and the Need for Deepening Our Faith." She gave the meditation followed by prayer.

Mrs. Eugene Kisamore read the Scripture. Talks and readings were given by Mrs. Dewey Weicht, Mrs. Browning, Mrs. Helen Wilson, Mrs. Homer Williams, and Mrs. Justin Heavner. Songs were sung by the group. They were "Rescue the Perishing," "His Yoke Is Easy," and "Where He Leads I'll Follow."

A business session was conducted by Mrs. Eston Heavner. Reports were given by each secretary. Mrs. Paul Robinette read a letter she had received from Miss Sally Reinicke, M.M.C.C., a missionary in Lodja, Congo Belge, Africa. The budget for the year was presented by Mrs. Eugene Kisamore and Mrs. Browning was appointed to send it to the conference secretary. She also read a poem, "Try and Stop Me." Mrs. Wendt gave a short program in closing.

Concluding the meeting refreshments were served.

The May meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Helen Wilson with Mrs. Eugene Kisamore leading devotionals. Her theme was "We Love then We Give."

Mrs. Dezen, R. I. Dezen Team Wins

Mrs. Samuel Dezen and Robert Dezen won the Mixed Pair championship of the Western Maryland Bridge Association. Thirteen tables playing 26 boards with a top of 12 on each and an average of 156, featured the seventh annual Mixed Pair championship game Thursday evening at the Woman's Civic Club house.

First-place winners with a score of 199 were Mrs. Dezen and Robert Dezen; second, Mrs. Fred Puderaugh and Miss Julia Jackson with 188 plus; third, Mrs. Joseph Knepp and Wellington Reinhardt with 185; fourth, Mrs. Mary Deal and Edgar Dawson with 183 plus; fifth, Mrs. Russell Bortz and Lester Deneen with 183.

A special game will be played by the Potomac Valley Bridge Club Tuesday night at the club house.

July 5 an Independence Day Championship game will be played by the association at the Cumberland Country Club.

To Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Reynolds will entertain with an open house tomorrow in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. It will be held at their home, 17 Hill Top Drive, from 2 until 5 and 7 until 10. Relatives, friends and neighbors are welcome to attend.

The tiered wedding cake, trimmed in white and blue, and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Robert Cessna, Mrs. Kenneth Lee and Mrs. Edgar Hounshell Jr. will assist in serving.

For their wedding trip to Canada, the bride will wear a yellow sheath dress with matching hat, white accessories and her orchid corsage. Upon their return Mr. Osbourne and his bride will reside at 5 Ridgeway Terrace.

Secrets Of Charm

Vacation Wardrobe—Final Check

Comfortable clothes, as well as those which are especially necessary in hot weather. A shoe that's too open solum gives the support the foot needs to prevent quick tiring, and a thin-soled shoe turns out to be the least cool of all when you're doing an unusual amount of walking. The sole of your sight-seeing shoe must put adequate insulation between the sole of your foot and hot pavements.

Take a change of hats and gloves to go with modest dresses if the trip includes sight-seeing in a city. In a city or the smallest town, always wear a hat in a church, the one that's a point of interest on the tour or the one you're attending. A hat is also in the best taste for restaurant dining in the city, evenings as well as daytime, unless you're wearing summer formal clothes for the evening.

Most Important

Comfortable shoes for sight-seeing couldn't be more important. Mistakes are usually made in the street-wear kind — you don't bring along enough to rotate

Park Place WSCS Plans Festival

An outdoor festival was planned at the meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Park Place Church. Sponsored by the society, it will be held July 11 on the church grounds, beginning at 6 p.m.

A contribution of $10 was made to the temperance league. Mrs. Herbert Cessna presided at the meeting at the church. The group sang, "Now the Day Is Over." Prayer was offered by Mrs. Bruce Bower. Routine reports were given and reports of the four circles. Mrs. Elizabeth Moon presented the budget.

Mrs. Edna Doman was in charge of the program on "Foreign Missions." Others taking part were Mrs. William Greier, Mrs. Bowen, and Mrs. Mildred Short. Forming a circle, everyone repeated the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Earl Sill spoke on "Spiritual Typhoons." Mrs. Tay Kootz spoke on what is expected of a spiritual life secretary, read the Scripture and a poem, "A Candle," and closed with prayer. Mrs. Doman won the gift of the month. Twenty-four members attended.

July 1 Is Deadline For Two 4-H Activities

Monday will be the deadline for enrolling for 4-H weekend camp and for entries in the 4-H demonstrations. Miss Mary P. Wise said last evening. Demonstrations will be July 8 and 9.

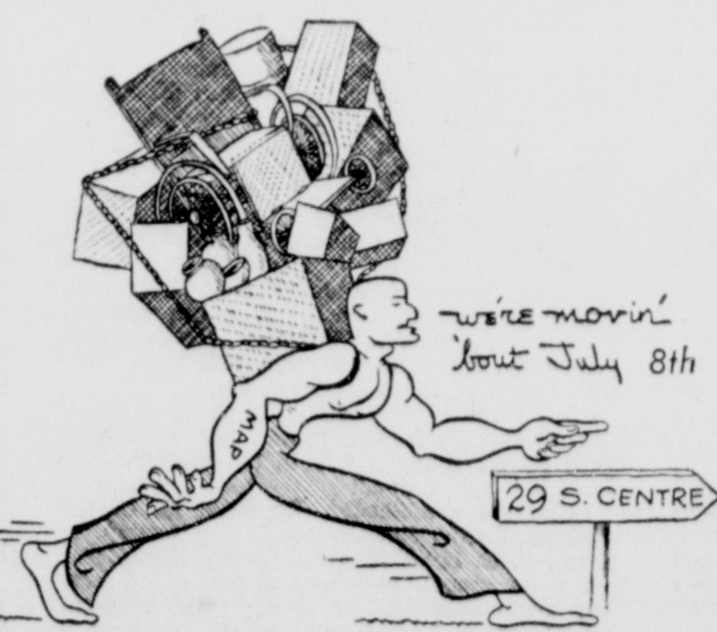

Junior Extension 4-H Older Youth Club will meet Monday evening at 8, in the extension office. Weekend camp and other summer activities will be planned.

Twigg Family Reunion Is Planned Tomorrow

"THEY WOODS AND TEMPLED HILLS..."

Samuel Francis Smith was a student at Andover Theological Seminary when he wrote "My country, 'tis of thee." That was in 1832, two years before he was ordained a minister.

"America" never became our national anthem—probably because it is sung to the tune of the British anthem, "God Save the King." But it has remained one of our greatest hymns, its words familiar to almost every American. In a simple, moving way it seems to express both the spirit of our nation and the faith of our churches. And in its stirring climax, addressed to the Author of Liberty, these become one.

Samuel Francis Smith, with other great Americans, taught us to seek our national welfare in constant religious devotion. He saw no denial of America's freedom—but rather its fulfillment—in the humble acknowledgment:

GREAT GOD, OUR KING!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Meeting To Organize United Fund Called At Westernport

WESTERNPORT—The Tri-Towns Chapter of the United Fund will be organized at a public meeting Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Union Hall, Main Street, here. Wayne Ritchie, executive director of the United Organizations and a member of the executive committee of the United Fund, announced.

All interested persons in the Tri-Towns area are invited to attend, especially representatives of local organizations and officers of the United Organizations.

Louis Ort, Woodward D. Pealer and Captain Daniel Biggs, representatives of the County United Fund, Inc., will conduct a round table discussion.

Six communities in this area have organized chapters of the UF to date, including: Frostburg, Keyser, McCoole, Cresaptown, Oldtown and Flintstone. Organizational meetings will be held in other communities of the area prior to the opening of the once-a-year campaign in the fall.

The Tri-Towns, Keyser and McCoole will combine in the financial campaign to form a division of the County United Fund, Inc., under the direction of a division chairman. Each community will also have a community chairman, Ort said.

Through the Tri-Towns United Organizations affiliation with the U. F., Beryl, Bloomington, Luke, Piedmont, Westernport, Frankton and Mill Run will become eligible to receive the benefits of the campaign to be conducted each year in the fall.

At the conclusion of the drive in the fall, funds will be apportioned to the affiliated agencies according to their approved budgets.

The County United Fund will not endeavor to control the activities of the affiliated agencies but rather to be sure that agencies serving the individual communities have sufficient money to fulfill their purposes.

United Fund, Inc., will campaign for agencies which affiliate, however, the Heart Association, Cancer Society and others plan to conduct their own campaigns as usual. National policy of most health agencies prohibit local chapters from participating in United Fund campaigns and programs.

Ardtha Fay McKenzie Wed To W. E. Robertson

LONAICONING—First Presbyterian Church, just newly renovated with lighting and interior painting, was the scene of a very beautiful wedding on Saturday, June 22, at 7:30 p. m.

Miss Ardtha Fay McKenzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. McKenzie, Jackson street, Lonaconing, became the bride of Airman First Class William Eugene Robertson, son of Mrs. Charles Walters, Church Street, Lonaconing.

A double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Chalmers H. Goshorn, pastor, before an attendance of over 200 family members, friends and out-of-town guests. The church was beautifully decorated with white gladioli, carnations and lighted candles.

Organ music was played by Miss Lesta Eichhorn, who played the traditional wedding march and "Tenderly." Harvey Frye, noted Lonaconing soloist, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a beautiful June bride attired in full length Chantilly lace and net over satin with medallion-insert voke with long pointed sleeves falling over her wrists. Her finger-tip veil fell from a headdress of rhinestones and seed-pearl. She carried a white orchid overlay a white Bible with white satin streamer. She wore a gift of pearl tear-drop earrings, her only adornment.

Matron-of-honor was Mrs. John Gowans Jr., a sister of the bride, attired in a yellow lace over satin gown with matching headdress and mits and carried a nosegay of vari-color flowers and marguerites.

Miss Betty Lou Robertson, sister of the bridegroom, a bridesmaid, was attired in a pink net over satin gown with pink head-dress and matching mits and carried a bridal nosegay of assorted flowers also.

Miss Delores Barr, of Keyser, a friend of the bride, was a bridesmaid and was attired in an orchid nylon over satin full length gown with orchid head-dress and matching mits and carried a nosegay bouquet.

Flower girls were Miss Roberta Lynn Nicol, of Lonaconing, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Belinda Sue Ciesnick, of Erie, Pa., a cousin also, who wore yellow organza dresses with yellow head-dresses and matching little mits and carried yellow daisy floral bouquets.

Raymond Andrews of Lonaconing, a friend of the bridegroom, was best man. The bridegroom, best man, father of the bride and ushers were attired in white dinner jackets, black trousers and black bow ties.

Ushers were Bill McIndoe and John Gowans. The bride's mother was attired in an orchid nylon lace-effect dress with all white accessories, and an orchid corsage.

The wedding reception was held at the bride's parents home with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake with bride and bridegroom in miniature top adornment. Mrs. Jennie J. Grahame and Miss Mary Rooney, cousins of the bridegroom, served the punch and cake respectively.

Mrs. Margaret Nicol, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Basil Morris, Mrs. Rhoda Robertson and Mrs. Raymond Robertson, assisted in

Pendleton County Veteran Heads W.Va. VFW Department

FRANKLIN, W. Va.—The new state commander of the West Virginia Veterans of Foreign Wars is Richard Homan of Sugar Grove, Pendleton County.

Homan was elected by delegates to the organization's thirty-fifth annual encampment at Clarksburg. He succeeds Eugene Walker.

Other officers named were John H. Moore of Huntington, senior vice commander; David J. Lowery of Weirton, junior vice commander; Ralph J. Stump of Weirton, quartermaster; Sam Angotti of Morgantown, judge advocate; Dr. Jerry Bales of Princeton, surgeon; and Ralph McElfresh of Weirton, chaplain.

The Woman's Auxiliary elected Mrs. Mary Cook of Belle as president, replacing Mrs. Madeline Pietranton of Weirton.

Delegates voted to hold next year's encampment at Morgantown in June with dates to be named later.

The group passed a resolution asking the State Department of Education to give teachers credit for time spent in the armed forces towards their promotions and retirement benefits.

Another resolution approved by the delegates called on the government to give GI William S. Girard a court martial trial on charges of killing a Japanese woman, rather than turning him over to Japanese courts.

Homan has served through the chairs in Post 9666 at Sugar Grove. He served two terms as commander of the Seventh District of West Virginia. During the administration of James W. Cothran, commander-in-chief, 1952-53, he served as assistant inspector general of the national organization.

Homan has been cited nationally for a membership brochure he prepared while serving as membership chairman of the Department.

Company Signs Union Contract

A contract has been obtained by the drivers and warehousemen of Goldsmith-Black Company through its bargaining agent, Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union.

Joseph Garlitz, business agent, said the agreement is the first of its kind in the wholesale sundry and tobacco business in this section.

The contract, Garlitz said, calls for wage increases of from 15 cents to 35 cents an hour, depending upon job classification.

The drivers and warehousemen come under the provisions of the Cumberland Area Teamsters Health and Welfare Plan.

This provides for $3,000 life insurance with double indemnity, and gives the worker and his family hospitalization and doctor expenses.

The contract which will expire June 30, 1958, Garlitz said, calls for a five-day, 40-hour work week.

Participating in the negotiations were Charles Irby, manager and owner; Thomas B. Finan and Garlitz.

Expenses Of LaVale Election Set At $620

The expense to the county of conducting the referendum election in LaVale last week totaled $620.33, according to bills submitted by the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors to the county commissioners.

Of the total, $180 was spent in advertisements for a meeting at which the provisions for the zoning board were outlined and notice of the election. The balance was for election workers who conducted the balloting.

Dr. Bess Named President Of Scout Council

Dr. Thomas Bess of Keyser was re-elected president of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the annual business meeting Thursday at Anton's Big Savage Inn.

This will be Dr. Bess' third term as president of the council that covers scouting in Allegany, Garrett, Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy and Grant counties.

Council vice presidents elected were K. S. McKee, Keyser; Rev. J. J. Atwell, Oakland, and Clarence Lippel, Cumberland.

Named to his second term as council commissioner was Merritt Feather, Oakland, and re-elected treasurer, a post he has held for many years, was Henry W. Price, Cumberland.

Representatives to the National Scout Council will be Miles G. Thompson Sr., Cumberland, and Dr. Donald P. Whitworth, West-ernport.

Executive board members are James C. Warden, Ross O. Decker, Rev. Kenan Crowley OFM Cap., J. L. Towler, Dr. C. L. Kopp and Duard Little, all of Cumberland.

Ivan Hall, C. Arthur Lancaster and H. H. Lowery, all of LaVale; Herbert C. Heineman, Cresport; Okey Michaels, Westernport; Dr. John Davis, Dr. Albert C. Cook, Dr. Adam Baer, Dr. R. B. Hardesty and Robert Zarefoss, all of Frostburg.

David Nuzum and Harland Ridder, both of Keyser; Lester Schaeffer; and C. H. Park, Petersburg; James Cookman, Romney; John Forman and Maurice Brookhart, Oakland; Dr. Lawrence Fantl, Piedmont.

The advisory committee is comprised of Arthur Weber, Victor D. Heisey, Rev. L. P. Landrigan, and Mayor Roy W. Eves, all of Cumberland; Dr. Harry Teter, John Dunkle, and David Willets, Frostburg; Julian G. Patrick, and Harry J. Biggs, Westernport.

Paul B. Naylor and Paul B. Bender, both of Oakland; David Shear, Romney; Alton Fortney, Luke, and Jay Bell, Crellin.

The nominating committee was comprised of H. H. Lowery, chairman, and Dr. Whitworth, William Gortner, Keyser; Brookhart, Dr. Baer and Cookman.

Playground Contest Winners Named

Winners in a stuffed animal show held Thursday at the West Side Playground were Anna Mary Pompei, most unusual; Carol Ann Seivert, smallest; Jayce Bates, funniest; John Feeney, prettiest; and Michael Becker and Patricia Gould, tied for largest.

Mrs. C. O. Newman and William Turner were the judges.

Events planned at the playlot next week include a meeting of the Teenage Club Monday at 7:30 p. m., and a film at dusk. A teenage dance will be held Tuesday evening.

Ronald Kellough is playground director, and Kay Ort is in charge of crafts instruction.

Rabbit Breeders Club To See Films Today

A movie, "Fun, Fur and Profit," will be shown at the monthly meeting of the Tri-County Rabbit Breeders Association at the home of Ralph D. Hampson, 10 East Street, at 7:30 p. m. today.

The film was produced by the American Rabbit Breeders Association, and Hampson said anyone interested in rabbits or the rabbit industry may attend.

Goldstein Asks Expansion Of Md. Teachers Colleges

Sen. Louis Goldstein (D-Calvert) president of the Maryland Senate, proposes that Frostburg State Teachers College be expanded to a full liberal arts school and that the junior college in existence at Frostburg could be expanded to serve Allegany and Garrett counties.

The suggestions were made as Goldstein expressed the opinion that the time has come for the state to put all its eggs in one basket and go all-out in support of higher education.

Goldstein, the Associated Press reported, believes the state should take a four-pronged approach to the mounting problem of overflow college enrollments:

1. Increase the number of college scholarships paid by the State.

2. Extend the state's capital improvement aid to more private colleges.

3. Expand the existing junior colleges and create additional ones to form a system of regional junior colleges which will blanket the state.

4. Make the five state teachers colleges full liberal arts schools which will continue to emphasize teacher training.

Both Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin and the Senate president agree that greater emphasis should be placed on the junior colleges to meet the demand of graduating high school seniors for some form of higher education.

"To take care of the expected growth, we'd have to spend millions at the university," Goldstein said. "Instead, why not make use of some of the facilities already available at other schools?"

He feels the five state teachers colleges—Bowie, Copping, Frostburg, Salisbury and Towson—could be expanded to full liberal arts schools.

"All they're doing now is training people to teach in the public schools of Maryland," Goldstein does not belittle this function and feels they should continue to emphasize teacher training. But he says they have the basic facilities—dormitories, libraries, classrooms—for an overall college program.

In the last 10 years, he said, the state has spent $12,646,000 on capital improvements at these five schools. He believes they should be serving a larger proportion of the college-hungry population of the state.

Hand-in-hand with his proposed change in the teachers colleges, Goldstein says, would be a system of regional junior colleges.

The junior college already in existence at Frostburg could be expanded to serve Allegany and Garrett counties. Hagerstown Junior College could be expanded to serve Frederick as well as Washington County.

Goldstein feels the existing junior colleges as well as any which may be established "should be tied in with the University of Maryland or the teachers colleges, so that a student could easily transfer his credits into the junior year of another college."

They also should provide technical training, he says, because not all of Maryland's young people will enter the professions or work in offices.

Gov. McKeldin recently said the "public junior colleges seem to be the answer" to providing more space for higher education. But he said the program, generally speaking, is in its infancy.

"It is estimated that the total enrollment in the coming fiscal year in the junior colleges will be 1,679," McKeldin said.

Junior colleges, with the exception of St. Mary's are operated by local departments of education with state support, and the governor says "they are doing a magnificent job."

"The question has arisen, however, as to whether they should continue in their present status or become branches of the University of Maryland," he added.

He said the state's contribution to the cost of the junior colleges will rise in the fiscal year starting July 1, from $125 to $150 per student. That amounts to about $250,000 in state support.

"I am of the opinion," McKeldin added, "that the State must eventually assume a far greater share of the expense of the junior colleges."

GRAND KNIGHT—John V. Lindner, above, elected Grand Knight of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus. He succeeds Thomas E. Carroll, and will be installed Tuesday.

County Gets Bids For Equipment

Bids were received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for office equipment in the County Assessing Department.

The bids were from Ankeney Company, $1,978.35; Marquis Company, $2,013.98; Remington Rand, $1,918.20 and Keyser Office Supply Company, $1,897.66. The bids were on metal desks, chairs, tables and filing cabinets.

The bids will be submitted to Somerville Nicholson, supervisor of assessments, so that he can confer with his staff and make a recommendation as to the most suitable type of equipment should be purchased.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson requested that the playground at the intersection of Shades Lane and Nave's Crossroads be graded. The lot is used mainly by boys and girls softball teams. The request was turned over to J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor.

Church To Hold Picnic Today

Trinity Methodist Church and Church School will hold its annual all-day picnic today at Smouse's Grove on the Christie Road.

There will be swimming, softball, horseshoes, badminton and other games and recreation, according to Philip Reuschel, who is in charge.

The Crusader's Mens Class, with Delbert Proudfoot as chairman, will have charge of games and prizes for children and adults. A "beauty" contest for the men will be a feature.

The Gleaner's Class of women will conduct a short vesper service in the evening. The children who attended the Church Bible School, which ended with a program at the morning worship service last Sunday, are invited to attend.

Anyone who does not have transportation is to contact Paul E. Nixon, Church School superintendent, so arrangements can be made.

Police Probing Reported Assault

City Police are investigating an assault reported by a 20-year-old West Side girl who claimed she was grabbed by a man Thursday near the Washington-Lee Street intersection.

The girl informed police the man had followed her from near the Algonquin Hotel. She managed to break away and ran home from where she reported the assault. Police were furnished a good description of the man.

SRC Purchases Land On Polish Mt.

A deed was recorded yesterday in the land records office at the Court House showing the sale of 4,875 square feet of property on the west slope of Polish Mountain to the State Roads Commission.

The property was sold to the State by Josiah E. Mullenax and Dorothy B. Mullenax, his wife. Tax stamps affixed to the deed indicate the sale price was approximately $13,000.

The SRC has begun an improvement project on the mountain which eliminates curves and steep grades of U. S. Route 40.

Man Opposes Junk Yard In Vale Summit

The problem of junk yards in the county came up at yesterday's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners. Anthony J. Urbas, who resides in Vale Summit, appeared before the board to inquire about an application for a junk yard in Vale Summit made by Floyd O. Shaw.

Urbas said the proposed junk yard, which he said has been in partial operation, would destroy the value of his property and he also complained about the burning of junked autos and resulting fumes which wait over his home and property.

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, informed Urbas that he is in process of preparing rules and regulations for operating junk yards under a law passed at the recent session of the legislature.

Both Commissioners James Orr and Charles N. Wilkinson said they are opposed to any junk yards. The commissioners informed Urbas that if autos are being burned at the Vale Summit site it constitutes a violation of the law.

J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, reported to the board that youths have been trespassing on the upper part of the county garage lot on Franklin Street and he fears some of them may be badly injured if the concrete pipes stored there is dislodged.

Chapman said the upper part of the lot is unfenced, but "No Trespass" signs have been erected. Commissioner Wilkinson suggested that county workmen at the garage in the evenings keep a watch on the section. Chapman said they do keep a watch, but there is no one at the garage on Saturdays and Sundays.

Red Subs In Aqaba
A Threat To Peace

Secretary of State Dulles sees in Soviet sales of submarines to Egypt "a studied effort . . . to maintain tension and danger of war" in the Middle East. He takes this position "quite apart from the question of whether or not" the submarine sale "is a violation of the United Nations resolution which calls for the suspension of any arms deliveries to the area of Middle East hostilities." The resolution, approved by the General Assembly on November 2 by a 65 to 5 vote, called on "all parties now involved in hostilities in the area" to "agree to an immediate cease-fire" and to "halt the movement of military forces and arms into the area." A stronger resolution, also sponsored by the United States, had been vetoed by Britain and France, October 30, in the Security Council. The vote on the first resolution, which would have required "all members" of the U. N. to "refrain from the use of force or threat of force in the area," was 7 to 2, with Australia and Belgium abstaining.

Dulles at his June 25 press conference carefully avoided part of a question which dealt with "recent Soviet movements in the Middle East." Presumably the reference was to the southward passage through the Suez Canal of three Soviet Navy ships on June 23, also the movement of six Soviet warships through the Dardanelles into the Mediterranean on June 20 and 21. Dulles probably was mindful of the reply of Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. Ambassador to the U. N., to the Soviet objection, April 26, that the United States sent the Sixth Fleet to the Mediterranean to "show the fist" during the Jordanian crisis of two months ago. The Sixth Fleet, Lodge declared, "is on the high seas and has every right to be."

Whether or not the United States wants to protest the movement of Soviet ships in the Red Sea, the sale of Soviet submarines directs a threat toward a clear U. S. commitment. That is the guarantee of "free and innocent passage" in the Gulf of Aqaba, reaffirmed dramatically by the State Department on June 23. Three of the six Soviet submarines reported contracted for have been delivered to Egypt.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Fair Trial Theory

It is no reflection on Japan that an American soldier, performing services while in the American uniform, wants to be tried in an American court. Until the present era it was a universal right among soldiers to be tried by a court-martial of their own country. There was a time when all foreigners in Japan and China were tried in their own courts situated in those countries. Extra-territoriality was abolished in Japan much earlier than in China, but neither country chose to adopt Anglo-Saxon law, finding various modifications of the Code Napoleon more suitable to their purposes. What law prevails now in Red China, I do not know. Whatever it is, the Chinese will find ways of evading it as they are more bound by local custom than by codes adapted from foreign countries and forcibly applied to them.

The Japanese are an obedient people, startlingly law-abiding but with high tempers particularly when they do not quite understand what is being done. Japanese are among the proudest people on Earth, taking umbrage readily. In personal relations, they are faithful to their friends; they never forget a foe. The Chinese are more flexible, readily forgetting both a friend and a foe, and doing it with a smile.

It is possible that William S. Girard could get a fair trial in Japan; in fact, he might get off scot free just to prove that Japan tempers justice with mercy; whereas an army court-martial might throw the book at him just to prove that no private may kick up a row when the big shots want to use him as a political pawn in an international enterprise.

Unfortunately for Girard, he is not the sole issue either for the United States or Japan. The fundamental question for Americans is whether an American soldier is the responsibility of the American government during his tenure in the service.

The other side of the coin is that the United States is making all sorts of agreements whereby American troops are really commodities in Military Aid. It was testified that there are many administrative agreements of all sorts. Thus, some Americans are working under the direction of NATO and when they are situated in NATO countries, they are under the supervision of those countries. Actually, at this moment, they are under the command of a German, General Hans Speidel.

In Japan, there is no status of forces treaty and therefore there are a series of documents, products of numerous negotiations which, it is to be hoped, the Supreme Court will evaluate juridically and not politically, although many recent decisions of this court have been political. The Supreme Court decision will determine whether when an American joins the armed forces either by draft or enlistment, he loses his constitutional rights for the duration of his service. This decision will also apply to reserves and therefore the question arises for what part of a man's life does he lose his constitutional rights.

The generals and admirals who sit on the Joint Chiefs of Staff ought to be on their knees praying that the Supreme Court decides against them because otherwise they will discover, altogether too late, that enlistments fall off, reserves disappear as quickly as possible, and that this is a principal issue in the 1958 Congressional campaign. It might even lead to a constitutional amendment that no American can be deprived of his constitutional rights under any circumstances, and it could create an antagonism to the armed forces that could really hurt the country.

In a word, the Girard case could so tie the defenses of this country into a political knot that no one could cut through because it would, in a political campaign, raise related questions that the military do not want raised at this time. For instance, if Joe McCarthy were alive, he would ask, "Who Promoted Peress?" It was bad judgment to permit such a case to become an issue at this time. The repetition of the phrase, "at this time," is intentional because it establishes the possibility that an arrogance of attitude is developing in both the State Department and the Department of Defense which could stimulate a political reaction at the polls in 1958. Little events lead to big crises.

'Perhaps More State Taxes — Governor!'

U.S. Will Continue Nuclear Testing Program

WASHINGTON

Since the President's press conference on Wednesday, it is clear that there will almost certainly be no mutual agreement with the Soviets to suspend nuclear weapons tests. Bar a miracle, the tests will go on.

When, on June 15th, the Soviets proposed a two or three year suspension of all nuclear weapons tests, to be monitored by international inspection teams the President was faced with a simple, dangerous, vitally important choice.

Should the United States try to negotiate a suspension of the tests, as a "first step towards disarmament," independent of other conditions? Or should the United States tie the suspension of tests into a "package deal," including conditions which the Soviets would almost certainly reject?

The question divided the Eisenhower administration into two bitterly opposed camps. In the lower policy-making levels there were those who favored the first course. Their arguments ran about as follows. The Soviet experts, including former Ambassador to the Soviet Union Charles Bohlen, had expressed the view that the Soviets were probably serious about negotiating a limited agreement. And the Soviet proposal, since it involved the stationing of monitors within the Soviet borders, looked like a serious proposal.

Moreover, it would be relatively easy to test its seriousness. The experts have heretofore unanimously contended that a mere handful of inspection teams operating in the Soviet Union and equipped with acoustic, seismic, and radiological devices, could detect a nuclear test of significant power anywhere within Soviet-controlled territory. Thus a test suspension could be monitored without a vast army of inspectors on both sides.

Moreover, it was argued, a test suspension should logically be to the advantage of the United States, since this country has tested far more bombs of far greater total power than the Soviet Union. And it would provide the "first step" of which the President has so often talked.

At his first press conference after the Soviet proposal on June 19th, it was obvious that the President was strongly influenced by such views. "I would be perfectly delighted," he said, "to make some satisfactory arrangement for temporary suspension of tests while we could determine whether we couldn't make some agreements that would allow it to be a permanent arrangement."

This looked very much like willingness to accept a test suspension without the "package deal." A powerful group within the Administration, led by UEC Chairman Lewis Strauss and Admiral Arthur Radford, violently opposed any test suspension on any terms, and they were undoubtedly appalled by the apparent weakening of the President on the issue.

Strauss, who has the President's ear, had based his stand largely on technical grounds — that the radiation danger was greatly exaggerated, for example, and that continued tests were necessary to develop efficient

Millionaires Humphrey And Kerr
Tangle Over Economic Situation

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey made a serious tactical error at the start of the current inflation hearings.

Gaylor Freeman of the First National Bank of Chicago was called in for Treasury strategy conferences on how to combat the Senate investigation. He and Undersecretary Randy Burgess recommended that Humphrey mete fire with fire, that he blast the Senators. Old Treasury hands advised against this, urged Humphrey not to make extravagant claims.

He spurned their advice, sided with Burgess and Freeman. Freeman then wrote the long political statement which Humphrey read into the record claiming the fiscal moon, the stars, and most of the financial universe for the Eisenhower Administration.

This was just what Bible-pounding Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma and other Democrats were looking for. They have been firing back, picking Humphrey's statement full of holes ever since.

Most amusing cross-examination in years has been Kerr's roughing up of Secretary Humphrey. Humphrey, long accustomed to being salaamed to by business tycoons, complains privately at being cross-examined by a two-bit millionaire from Oklahoma.

Whether Humphrey or Kerr has more millions is a debatable point. Humphrey's wealth is in uranium, iron ore, paint, rayon, steel, and biscuits. Kerr's wealth is in $100 million worth of oil and gas lands.

The wealth of both men has benefited from tax favors. Humphrey's companies have got tremendous write-offs from Uncle Sam, and those located in foreign countries don't pay taxes in the USA. Kerr, likewise, has had healthy benefits through the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance.

Regardless of who is wealthier, Kerr and Humphrey have been going at each other hammer and tongs—partly because Humphrey's big business advisers advised him to lead with his political chin.

In Smoke-Filled Rooms

The famed Morgenthau diaries have been declared classified by Senators Eastland of Mississippi and Jenner of Indiana who run the Senate Internal Security Committee. Just why remains a mystery. Senators probed the Morgenthau diaries to see if they could find disloyalty by employees who worked for the ex-Secretary of the Treasury, but their search was fruitless. Now historians want to examine the diaries, all or file at FDR's Hyde Park Library, but the two Senators say no.

Arthur Schlesinger, the Harvard historian and ghost writer for Adlai Stevenson, did get a look at the diaries but he was lucky. Other historians are banned . . . Morgenthau made a note of almost everything he did from sneezes to talks with FDR, and his 900 volumes of notes are a historian's paradise . . . George Allen, Ike's golfing friend and business partner in Howard Johnson restaurants, refers to the new Undersecretary of State as follows "Chris Herter is a glass arm pitcher. Ike was oversold on him." Those inside the State Department, however, say Herter is doing a fine job. He's a slow starter. But he has increased

State Department morale as never before under Dulles; has brought back staff conferences for the first time since Dean Acheson's exit . . . The White House had so much trouble finding a new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission that it's going to Commissioner Doerfer by default. About 20 people turned down this key job which hands out million-dollar TV permits. Retiring Chairman McConaughy and other GOP commissioners have plunged the Commission into too much politics. . . . Correction: In connection with the recent report of Congressmen who took free trips to the Dominican Republic and became apologists for Dictator Trujillo, it should be noted that the expenses of Congressman Donald Jackson (R-Calif.) were paid by the House Foreign Affairs Committee, not by Trujillo; and that the expenses of Congressman Pat Kearney (R-N.Y.) were paid by Earl Christberry, proprietor of the Jaragua Hotel, who has close relations with Trujillo. Neither Congressman accepted the proffered medal from Trujillo.

Civil Rights Deal

Some of the deals made to block the civil rights bills are now being paid off.

Congressman Howard Smith of Virginia, head of the Southern bloc, has privately warned Democratic leader John McCormack that he will stall for time before letting new antitrust legislation out of his House Rules Committee for a vote by the full House.

Smith had secretly promised to block the pre-merger notification bill — requiring corporations to notify the Justice Department 60 days before corporate mergers — if Congressman Miller of New York and the NAM would try to water down the civil rights bill.

Congressman Smith is now paying off.

APPRAISALS

When one speaks we either hear him or we don't. When we hear him speak we hear him, as well as what he says. We wonder whether what he says is his conviction or a superficial expression of some half-baked opinion.

Language can be tricky. It can be used to express our thoughts, it can also be used to conceal our thoughts and it can operate to conceal the fact that we have no thoughts.

So, when we hear one speak we must appraise the speaker and weigh what he says. Emerson said, "What you are speaks so loudly I cannot hear what you say."

We are not heard for our many words (Matthew 6:7) and wisdom is often expressed in few words or even silence.

Two men heard Kagawa, the great Christian of Japan. They came away disappointed. His speech was halting; but remembering that he got trachoma by living among the poor in the great cities of his country, one said to the other, in summary: "I guess when a man is hanging on a cross, he doesn't have to say much."

The Unending Search

Diogenes (412-323 B. C.) was a man of deeds and few words, but his words were impregnated with wisdom.

He had various eccentricities, but he was not schizoprenic. He got rid of all his possessions except a cloak and purse and a wooden bowl. He even threw away the bowl as unnecessary, when he saw a boy drinking from the hollow of his hand.

One day he was seen carrying a lantern through the streets of Athens, and on being asked what he was looking for, answered, "I am seeking an honest man."

Once Alexander the Great came to see him at Corinth and asked him if there was any favor he could do him. Diogenes replied that the only thing Alexander could do for him was not to stand between him and the sun. Alexander was so struck with this answer that he said: "If I were not Alexander, I would be Diogenes."

Henry David Thoreau (1817-1862) was an American counterpart of the Greek Cynic Diogenes. He was the Robinson Crusoe of the spiritual life, the first great protestant against the sordid materialism of America.

By reducing the machinery of life to its lowest terms, Thoreau supported himself for two years at an average cost of 27 cents a week, and only six weeks' labor out of the 52 weeks of the year.

But read the romance of his living in his books about Walden Pond. When he lay dying a pious aunt asked him if he had made his peace with God. He replied, "Why, I didn't know we had ever quarreled."

Both the Greek Cynic and the American Sage of Walden Pond are pioneers in realism. Their living standards are impractical in this pragmatic age of ours. But the core of their philosophy is germane.

Honest people are hard to find; sordid materialism is in the saddle. Conventional honesty is not enough. One may dwell in a palace and his soul live in an alley.

A Need For Hypocrisy

One may wear a pleasant face toward one he cordially dislikes, which may be a social necessity, but it is a form of hypocrisy. If everybody would speak what they really think about everybody else it is doubtful if society would hold together.

The truth came out when two deaf men met. One said, "I'm proud of you," to which the other replied, "I'm tired of you, too."

It is refreshing to hear one speak spontaneously about what he thinks, although it may not sound pleasant or accurate.

An Irishman being held up with the usual demand, "Your money or your life," replied, "Take me life, I'm savin' me money for me old age."

Exaggeration is a form of deviation. A 5-year-old rushing in the house one day cried out, "O mama, there's a horse in our back yard as big as a house."

"Haven't I told you a million times, you must not exaggerate!"

Eight Protestant Episcopal bishops were returning by plane to the mainland, when one motor went bad. A fellow-passenger said to the pilot, "You don't need to fear, there are eight bishops aboard." The pilot replied, "I'd rather have one good motor than eight bishops."

Honesty Is Relative

Our modern society is shot through with dishonesty. The average man is half-honest. I have noted that it takes two men to carry the bag from the store tills to the bank deposit chute after hours. One should do. If society were all honest, guards would not be necessary.

A mortician can make a roue look like a saint, but only God can change him till he is one.

A shaggy, unshaven, uncombed, un bathed, untailored ne'er-do-well dropped dead in the street, was taken to the undertaker's, and there was shaved, given a new suit, his hair trimmed and combed, and his body placed in a satin plush casket.

His few pals passing by remarked, "Bowser, if you knew how pretty you look, you would have done this twenty years ago."

"Have you talked these matters over with God?" "Yes, and I told him just what I thought." "And what did he say?" "I didn't wait to hear."

What do you think, gentle reader? inquires

Mrs. Maurice Glick Wins CCC Tourney By Five Strokes

Mrs. Bibby Cops Playoff For 2nd Spot

Beats Mrs. Ferriday After Tying At 161; Capt. Busch Is 5th

Mrs. Maurice Glick, of the Woodholme Country Club, Baltimore, gained her first leg on the Old Export Bowl, donated by the Cumberland Brewing Company, when she won the seventh annual women's invitation golf tournament of the Cumberland Country Club yesterday with a 36-hole score of 156 for the two-day event.

Mrs. Glick's total was 10 strokes above the par 146 for 36 holes at the Christie Road course.

The nine times Baltimore city champion, competing in the local tourney for the fourth time, shot a four over-par 77 for the final 18 holes and added this to her first day's 79 to win by the margin of five strokes over her closest competitors.

Mrs. Glick will have her name inscribed on the large silver sterling bowl and will receive a replica of the trophy for keeps.

The Baltimorean was runner-up to Capt. Lucille Busch, 1956 winner, 164-161, tied Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, for first place in 1955 at 158 and lost out in a sudden death playoff and finished third back of Miss Downey and Mrs. G. William Bibby in the 18-hole event in 1953 with an 80, five strokes off the pace.

Mrs. Bibby Is Second

Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland's top golfer, and Mrs. Edward Ferriday of Chevy Chase, tied for the runner-up position yesterday with gross scores of 161. In a sudden death playoff the "Pride of the Cumberland Country Club" won on the second extra hole. Each player had four on No. 1 while on No. 2 Mrs. Ferriday took a six to tie the local star's five.

Mrs. Bibby's best previous performance in the local event was in 1953 when she finished only three strokes back of Mary Ann Downey, the winner. Jean was third in 1952, fourth in 1951, fifth in 1956 and sixth in 1955.

Mrs. Paul Streit, of the Army and Navy Country Club, Chevy Chase, toured the 36 holes to finish in fourth place while the fifth spot was shared by Capt. Lucille Busch, of the U. S. Air Corps, Hollywood, Calif., and Mrs. George Noble, of the Kenwood Country Club, both of whom posted 164s. Capt. Busch had won the first leg on the Old Export Trophy last year with a 161 after Mary Ann Downey had retired the first sterling silver trophy in 1955 by winning the tourney for the third consecutive year.

Posts Low Net Of 149

Low net score was turned in by Mrs. Helen Benitoa, of Havana, Cuba, whose card was 167-18-149. Mrs. Benitoa received the S. T. Little Jewelry Company Trophy.

Seventy players from twenty different clubs in Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, the District of Columbia, California and Cuba made up the field for the annual tourney which was marked by perfect golfing weather for the seventh consecutive year. Twenty-five trophies were distributed among the players.

Caseys Extend Winning Streak

Defeat Bakers, 2-1, Tie For 1st Place

The Knights of Columbus rolled to their seventh consecutive victory at the expense of the Blue Ribbon Bakery yesterday at Stitzer Field and tied the Hermans for first place in the City Softball League. The score was 2-1.

The tied leaders own 7-2 records. Tommy Mullaney's two-base belt drove Jerry Farrell home with the winning tally in the 7th inning. Mickey Clark, Donnie Madden and Ricky Harris collected two hits each for the Knights. Hudson's triple scored Jack with the Bakers' only run in the first inning. George Harris struck out nine Blue Ribbon batsmen.

Lefty Hook notched his fourth win against a single loss as the Old Germans beat Old Export at Post Field by the score of 11-1. "Pooch" Lewis homered with one aboard in the fifth and "Brindle" Long and Hook shared six of the winners' 10 hits. Bill Burke headed the Old Exports with two hits. The Old Germans now own a 5-5 record. Scores:

DD Senators Score 4th In Row; Dodgers Halt Red Sox, 7-2

The undefeated Senators rolled to their fourth win of the season over the Braves, 5-1, but the Red Sox went down to defeat for the first time at the hands of the Dodgers, 7-2, in Dapper Dan Little League games played yesterday.

Ronnie Hughes hurled a 3-hitter and struck out eight Tigers while Johnny Roy, Parisier and Harvey aided the cause by blasting triples. Peters rapped a three-bagger for the Tigers. Killen was the fielding star.

Jack Hutcherson snapped the Red Sox three-game winning streak. Doug Shook and Hutcherson headed the Dodgers' eighth-hit attack with two blows each while Walt and Rocky Klosterman slammed three-baggers and John Horn hit a double. Harold Hardinger's double drove in both Red Sox runs. Homer Hardinger rapped a double and single for the Dodgers.

Scoring five runs in the first inning, the Phillies went on to whip the Athletics at East Side by the score of 8-3.

Jimmy Powelson smashed a homer, double and single for the victors, Vinne DeLaGrange and Sandy Rice had two hits each and Jimmy Mertens started at short. Scores:

Braves Win, Grab Lead

MILWAUKEE, June 28 (P)—The Milwaukee Braves hauled back into first place in the National League tonight as Warren Spahn belted a homer and came up with a great pitching performance for a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The St. Louis Cardinals dropped out of first to second, a half game behind the Braves when they lost to New York 4-1.

Spahn allowed five hits and held the Pirates hitless until the fifth when Ramon Mejias singled to center. The Pirates didn't get another hit until the seventh when they collected two more and pushed over one run. They added one more run in the ninth.

It was the eighth triumph in 13 decisions for the veteran left-hander who didn't give up a walk until the eighth. He struck out six.

The defeat was charged to Pirate starter Bob Friend, who has lost nine and won four this season. Jonny O'Brien and Louis Arroyo finished up after Friend was lifted for a pinch batter in the sixth.

The Braves managed eight hits, one of them Spahn's first homer in the fifth inning. It boosted his lifetime total to 18 and increased his all-time record total for National League pitchers.

The Braves bounced off to a three run lead in the second. They filled the bases on Frank Torre's double, an error that put Johnny Logan on first and Felix Mantilla's infield hit. Del Crandall's booming double to left sent all three runners home.

Pittsburgh ..... 000 000 101-2 5 1
Milwaukee ..... 030 010 00x-4 8 0
Friend, O'Brien (6), Arroyo (8) and Foiles, Spahn and Crandall, L—Friend.

Corgs, Maple Inn Win In County

Corriganville's Old Exports trimmed Burkey's 8-1, and Maple Inn Old Germans won over Stringtown, 12-5, in County Softball League games played yesterday.

Only six hits were recorded in the Corriganville-Burkey's game. John Kennell collected both of the hits credited to the losers. Lloyd Kline and "Fats" Fetters rapped a triple and a double, respectively, for the Old Exports.

Jerry O'Baker and Abucevitz of Maple Inn garnered two safeties each while Bobby Bling obtained a double and two singles for Stringtown. Scores:

Corriganville ..... 023 225 6-12 11 1
Burkey's ..... 006 130 0-1 2 3

Rain Halts Game

Rain stopped the Frostburg Little League game yesterday between the Elks and Orioles with the score knotted at 1-1 in the fourth inning. The game will be replayed Tuesday at 6 p. m.

Yankees Beat Athletics, 5-4

Slaughter's Pinch Hit Decides Battle

NEW YORK, June 28 (P)—Enos Slaughter lined a two-out pinch single to break an eighth-inning tie for a 5-4 New York victory tonight as the Yankees defeated the Kansas City Athletics for the eighth time without defeat this season to retain a share of the American League lead.

The Yankees, keeping pace with the Chicago White Sox who won at Washington, got the job done with an unearned run off reliever Wally Burnette, who lost his fifth. A two-out error by third baseman Hec Lopez on Hank Bauer's grounder set it up. Tony Kubek singled Bauer to third and Slaughter, swinging at the first pitch, brought him home.

Bob Grim won his eighth in 10 decisions in relief.

The A's who started five ex-Yankees in their lineup and took a 2-0 lead in the second inning on a homer by ex-Bomber Woody Held, dropped their eighth in a row on their eastern trip.

The Yankees scored three in the third off Virgil Trucks on doubles by Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra and led 4-2 after five while righthander Bob Turley, who never has lost to the A's, sailed along on a three-hitter.

Kansas City got rid of the young swiftly in the eighth, when Irv Noren, yet another ex-Yankee, singled for Trucks and Lopez walked his sixth home run to tie it.

Turley, 8-0 against Kansas City, struck out seven and walked two. Hal Smith drew one of the walks ahead of Held's No. 2 homer in the second.

Kansas City ..... 020 000 020-4 8 2
New York ..... 003 010 01x-5 10 1
Trucks, Burnette (8) and Smith, Turley, Grim (8) and Berra, W—Grim, L—Burnette.

Giants Jolt St. Louis, 4-1

ST. LOUIS, June 28 (P)—The red hot New York Giants stopped the St. Louis Cardinals tonight 4-1 ending their eight-day roost atop the dizzy National League pennant race.

Milwaukee's Braves beat Pittsburgh 4-2, showing the Red Birds into second place by a half game.

Rookie Curt Barclay, a side-arming righthander, needed help from Marv Grissom, 39, in the seventh but ruined a bid by Larry Jackson of the Cards to become the league's first 10-game winner this season.

The Giants have won 13 of 17 games since the Cardinals swept four games from them in New York. Barclay stands 4-5 for the season. Jackson 9-4.

St. Louis, outthit 11-10, left 11 men stranded on the bases.

New York ..... 200 200 000-4 11 1

Orioles Score 4th Straight Shutout Win

Ray Moore Beats Cleveland, 6-0

BALTIMORE, June 28 (P)—Ray Moore yielded only three hits to the Cleveland Indians tonight while beating them 6-0 for the fourth straight out by a Baltimore Oriole pitcher to tie the American League record.

All power in Memorial Stadium failed with one out in the Cleveland ninth and the five minute suspension until the lights came back on heightened the tension for the 13,945 fans.

The Orioles haven't permitted a run in the last 41 innings. They started with five scoreless innings by Moore while he was winning Sunday. The record for consecutive innings without a run is 47 set by the Cleveland pennant winners of 1948.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Orioles and their eighth in the last 10.

They drove the Indians crazy with bunts in this first of a four-game series. Three of the seven Oriole hits off starting pitcher Mike Garcia were bunts. The Indians were so upset they made six throwing errors.

Moore pitched to 31 batters despite issuing three walks to take his fourth game against five losses.

Busso Upsets Larry Boardman

BOSTON, June 28 (P)—Lightly-regarded Johnny Busso of New York floored young Larry Boardman of Marlborough, Conn., twice in the early rounds while upsetting the fifth-ranked lightweight contender on a unanimous decision to night in a 10-round brawl.

The 24-year-old kid from New York's East Side, a 135-underdog sent Boardman to the canvas for compulsory eight — counts in the first and third rounds and had a wide edge in slug-ging duels most of the route.

Pony League Season Will Open July 8

Tryouts Set Today; Managers Selected

The Pony Baseball League, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, will function with four teams this year and will open its season on Monday, July 8, it was announced yesterday by Gene Mason, acting recreation director.

The Pony League is for boys 15, 16 and 17 years old, as of August 1, and tryouts will be held for those who were not on the teams last year at 9:30 a.m. today at Penn Avenue Field.

Holdovers will play with the same team they were on last year and will report next week. The Thorobreds will meet Monday at 10 a.m. at Stitzer Field while the Colts will drill the same day at 6 p.m. at Fort Hill.

Any boys who have played more than one game with American Legion junior nines will not be eligible for the Pony League.

Plans for the 1957 season were made at a meeting held in City Hall Thursday night at which time managers were named as follows: Earl Drenning, Colts; Charles Detrick, Mustangs; John Mills, assisted by Paul Cioni, 1956 manager, Thorobreds, and Don and Vernon Shout, Stallions.

League games will be played at Stitzer Field, Fort Hill and Penn Avenue. Each team will play 12 games.

Chisox Win At Capital

Senators Beaten In 9th Frame, 4-3

WASHINGTON, June 28 (P)—Dick Donovan's pop fly single to leftfield with one out in the ninth inning scored Jim Landis from second base to give the Chicago White Sox and Donovan a 4-3 victory over Washington tonight. Larry Doby batted in Chicago's other runs in the fifth inning with a three-run double.

The Senators chased Donovan in the ninth after Faye Thorneberry singled and Rocky Bridges sacrificed. Paul LaPalme walked pinch-hitter Art Schult. Milt Bolling forced Schult at second base. When Pete Runnels walked to fill the bases, Dixie Howell was summoned from the bullpen in a driving rain and retired Roy Sievers on a pop to shortstop Luis Aparicio.

Hyndman Merchants Battle Pen-Mar All-Stars Sunday

Mt. Savage Is Game Site; Players Picked From Seven Teams

The Pen-Mar Baseball League will stage its annual All-Star game Sunday with the Hyndman Merchants, current league leaders, facing an all-star combination composed of players from the other seven clubs in the circuit. Mt. Savage will be the scene of the action and "Play Ball" will be called at 2:30 p. m.

In past years the league held an East-West All-Star contest with players from four teams in the eastern section meeting representatives from the four teams in the western section of the loop.

Gene Stair is manager of the Hyndman team which leads the league with a 12-1 record.

Winfield Is Leader

"Buck" Winfield of Zihlman will manage the All-Stars and will be assisted by Joe Glass of Wellersburg and Mel Nee of Centerville. The seven teams from which the All-Stars have been drawn are: Zihlman, Barrelyville, Mt. Savage, Centerville, Grantsville, Wellersburg and Flintstone.

Hyndman's pitchers are Jim Leydig (6-0), Glenn Evans 3-0, Lou Hite 1-1 and Carl May 0-1.

All teams will see action today. All Teams Play Today

Hyndman (12-1) plays at Zihlman (8-5), Grantsville (6-7) invades Mt. Savage (7-6), Centerville (7-6) hosts Flintstone (0-12) and Wellersburg (4-8) and Barrelyville (7-6) tangle

Wheeling Track Ordered Sold To Hazel Park Operators

Federal Judge Rejects High New York Bid

Judge Harry Watkins Approves $1,780,000 Offer From Detroit

WHEELING, W. Va., June 28 (AP)—A federal judge today ordered the Wheeling Downs half-mile track sold to the operators of the Hazel Park track near Detroit for $1,780,000, closing the door in the face of a bigger bid from Yonkers, N. Y.

The half-mile track, owned by William (Big Bill) Lias, has been in Federal receivership for several years because the huge, controversial figure hasn't paid the $3,200,000 the government says he owes in back income taxes.

U.S. District Judge Harry E. Watkins called for public bids on the 20-year-old oval for June 12. One bid was received—1½ million from John B. Kelly of Philadelphia, father of Princess Grace of Monaco and president of a thoroughbred track at Atlantic City, N. J.

Then Watkins said he would receive further bids until last Friday, saying he would consider any that was 10 per cent higher than Kelly's and had a good excuse for being late.

Yonkers Boosts Offer
A group headed by Arthur Stoll, lawyer for principal stockholders of the Yonkers harness track, bid $1,755,000. Then the Hazel Park Racing Assn. offered $1,780,000.

Then earlier today, Yonkers sought to boost its offer to $1,830,000, or $50,000 more than the Hazel Park bid. Watkins said he would think it over until this afternoon.

This afternoon, he approved the sale to Hazel Park, saying it was "in the best interest of all parties concerned."

The government will get 60 per cent of the sale price, to be applied against Lias' tax bill. The remainder will go to Lias' wife and two children, listed as minority stockholders.

Meet Opens July 10
The sale wasn't any too soon. The track has a summer meeting scheduled for July 10-Sept. 14.

James V. Bellanca of Detroit, representing Hazel Park, yesterday told the West Virginia Racing Commission his group would run night races daily—with nine on Saturday—with purses of at least $1,000.

He indicated that Morris Wade of Detroit would be racing secretary, with Robert G. Leavitt of Detroit, who worked at Wheeling Downs several years ago, as general manager.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 28 (INS)—For weeks after Dan Dailey parted with 20th Century-Fox he could not make up his mind what he wanted to do, but he has finally found a picture in "The Amphibian" that suits him. So with producer Ivan Tors, director Andrew Marton, he will take off for the South Pacific in September where it will be filmed.

Dan has had offers from all directions, but it was "The Amphibian," a story of difficult feats under water, that intrigued him. Actually, the story is the life of Francis Fane, who led some of these frogmen adventures.

I suspect Gwen will tag right along with Dan since they are getting along so well and she won't want him out of her sight.

Young Andy Griffith's been playing in luck ever since he clicked on Broadway in "No Time for Sergeants" and was imported to Hollywood for the movie. But I think he really hits the jackpot in getting Norman Taurag, one of the best comedy directors in the business, to guide him in "Onionhead."

Andy's second for Jack Warner. I've known Norman for years and he's tops at getting both laughs and sympathy out of every script he's handled. "Onionhead" is based on Weldon Hill's book "The Coast Guard" and I hear it will do for the Coast Guard what "Mister Roberts" did for the Navy. That's good enough.

I haven't heard Helmut Dantine sound as happy since the good notices he received in "War and Peace" as when he telephoned me about his big moment. He has been signed by Regal Films to co-produce "Shock Wave" for 20th Century-Fox, a story of jet planes, which goes before the cameras August 12.

"How's your romance?" I asked him.

"Well, my career is uppermost in my life now," he said, "but I still see Nicola Michaels often. She is a wonderful girl."

Nicola is Nicholas Schenck's daughter, and in the last few months she has concentrated entirely on the fascinating Helmut.

I hadn't seen Marina Koshetz in years until I went to a dinner hosted in her honor and in honor of her mother, former opera star Nina Koshetz, by Dr. and Mrs. Charlie Carpenter and Dr. Franklin Ashley. Marina is now married to Dr. Ashley, eminent plastic surgeon at UCLA.

Marina, vivacious and with a lovely singing voice, has more or less retired into private life. The party was in honor of her and her mother's appearance on a TV show.

I remember so well when she used to telephone me often about her career. She's been so busy being a doctor's wife that her own work has been secondary, but I expect, one of these days, we'll be seeing her on the stage or in motion pictures.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Tyrone Power and Bobbe Sutton made the rounds, with dinner at the Beachcomber's and later at the Encore.

Al Steele's nine-year-old son accompanied him and Joan Crawford to Hollywood to spend three weeks with Joan's children before the Steeles take off for Naples.

The gift from the crew of "Pal Joey" to Snuffy, the Cairn terrier in the picture, is a portable fire-plug — and believe me, Snuffy likes it.

Haven't stayed up reading a book until dawn for a long time, but I couldn't put down Ben Hecht's "Charlie," the story of Charlie MacArthur. I love the part about the late Walter Howe, one of the great Hearst editors.

That's all today. See you Monday.

Baby Moon Launching By January Forecast

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—Scientists reported that they now hope to launch the first manmade moon into space by next January.

They announced most of the problems have been or are being solved, and "exciting results" can be expected in 1958.

To Hold Festival

The four churches of the Union Grove Circuit will hold a festival this evening at the Union Grove camp grounds, beginning at 5 o'clock.

The first friction matches in America were manufactured in 1825 at Thurmont, Md.

FOR SALE BY THE STATE ROADS COMMISSION

Sealed bids will be received until noon, Tuesday, July 9, 1957, at the office of the State Roads Commission, Baltimore, Maryland, offering to purchase the improvements located on the former Hunt Construction Co. property consisting of a 31' x 65' one story frame garage, a one story 4 room and pantry frame house at 71 Marion St., and a one story 4 room and bath frame house at 364 Central Ave., on the proposed highway improvement known as the Cumberland Thruway at the corner of Marion St. and Central Ave., Cumberland.

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Maryland, to be held in the City Hall at 10 o'clock A.M., July 2, 1957, an ordinance will be introduced providing for the closing of that portion of SOMERVILLE AVENUE which lies between the northern side of Quebec Avenue and the southern side of Fourth Street, a distance of approximately 443.63 feet. The ordinance will also provide for the appointment of Commissioners to award compensation to any person or persons owning property on said part of said street which may be closed and who may be affected thereby.

Late Selling Pares Good Market Gains By Steels

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)—Late selling pared some pretty good gains by steels and motors today but the stock market remained slightly ahead on average.

For the second straight day, volume was at the lowest level since April 1.

Turnover dwindled to 1,770,000 shares from 1,800,000 yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 20 cents to $182.20 with the industrials down 30 cents, the rails up 10 cents and the utilities up 50 cents.

Industrials as a whole backed away from a sizable gain established at mid-session. The rails, too, were nicely ahead at the midway point but remained barely ahead at the close. The utilities, however, kept moving ahead.

American Telephone's continued come-back after equalling its year's low this week, was encouraging.

Among the 15 most active stocks, 8 rose, 6 fell and one was unchanged.

Bethlehem Steel was the most active stock, up 1/4 at 48 1/4 on 25,000 shares. Second was Electric & Musical Industries, up 1/4 at 41 1/4 on 20,000 shares. Third was Fruehauf Trailer, up 1/2 at 19 1/2 on 19,800 shares.

Next came Standard Oil (NJ), up 3/4 at 66, followed by General Motors, up 1/2 at 43.

Also actively traded, Eastern Stainless Steel rose 1 1/2 while U.S. Steel and Lukens, both higher in early dealings, took net losses of fractions.

Gainers included Illinois Central 1/4, American Telephone 1/4, Texas Co. 1/4, Inland Steel 2 1/2, Good-year 1 1/2, Chrysler 1/2 and Good-year 1 1/2.

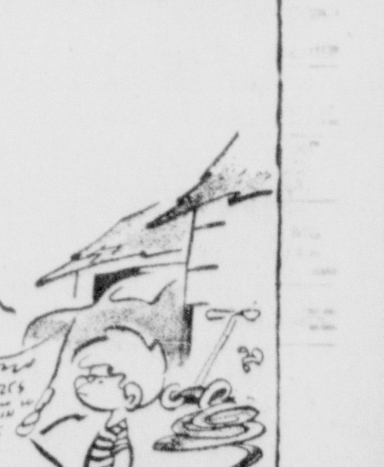

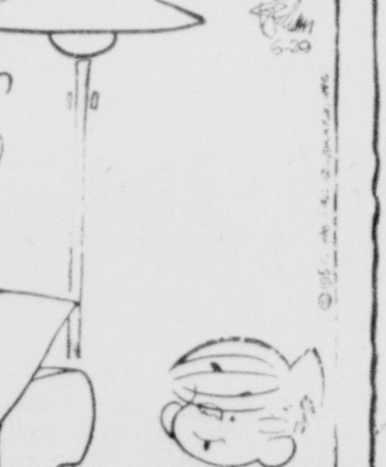

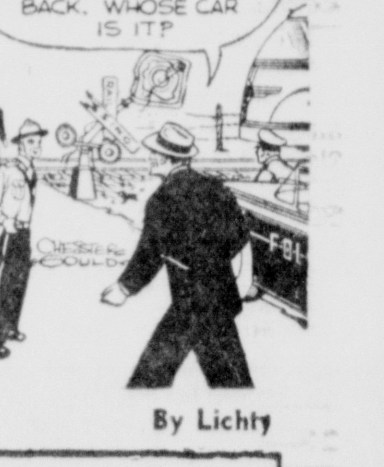

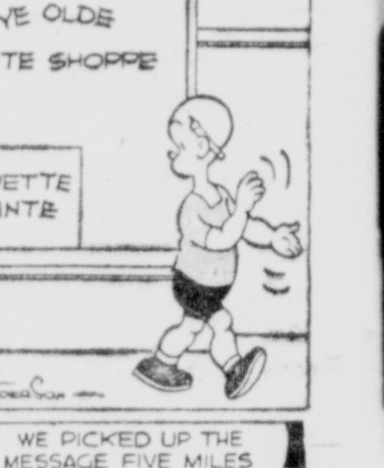

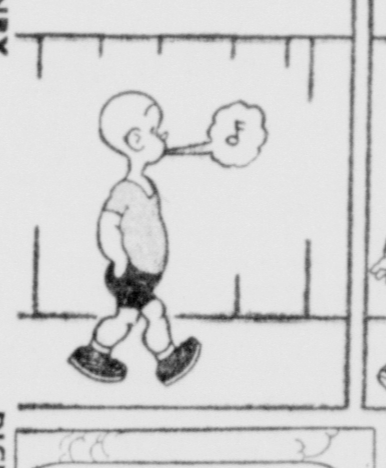

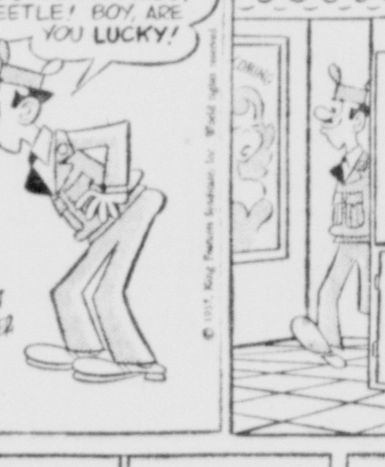

On the American Stock Exchange the trend was higher. Gainers included Imperial Oil, Creole Petroleum, Woodley Petroleum and Mead Johnson. Volume totaled 670,000 shares compared with 660,000 yesterday.

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP)—One of the most active trading sessions in weeks advanced grain prices fairly sharply on the Board of Trade today but profit taking and evening up operations for the weekend cut into the best levels.

Closing futures:
Wheat (old): Jly 2.13; Sep 2.16 1/2; Dec 2.20 1/2.
Wheat (new): Jly 2.14 1/2; Sep 2.18 1/2; Dec 2.21 1/2.

Keyser Father Stabs Baby, Then Swallows Rat Poison

Tot Undergoes Surgery; Parent Reported 'Fair'

Simms, Daughter In Local Hospital

A 22-year-old father stabbed his five-weeks old daughter, police said, and then drank rat poison and a disinfectant and stabbed himself yesterday evening at his home in Keyser, W. Va.

Clarence Simms of Newton Street, is in "fair" condition at Memorial Hospital. The child, Kathy Ann, was immediately taken to surgery at the hospital.

Later, the child also was reported in "fair" condition.

West Virginia State Trooper C. C. Oliver, who is investigating, said the incident occurred about 7 p. m. and resulted from "family trouble."

The father and child apparently were the only two at home at the time. A neighbor, Elizabeth Stewart, notified police of the incident.

Finds Father On Bed

Trooper Oliver said that when he arrived at the Simms home, he found the father lying on a bed upstairs with a bottle of disinfectant clutched in his hand.

Oliver said Simms told him he had stabbed the child in the abdomen with an ice pick and afterward took a disinfectant and some rat poison.

The child had been taken to the hospital before the police arrived. The ice pick was found on the dresser.

Family Quarrel Reported

The child was placed in an incubator and was being given oxygen en route to the local hospital, where she was rushed to surgery.

Police said the parents of the child had had a quarrel. Police said that the father had gone next door to the home of his wife's people and grabbed the child from the arms of a sister-in-law, and returned to his home, where the stabbing took place.

They said no charges have been placed pending the conditions of the father and child.

Officer Wilson Still 'Critical'

City Police Officer Edward P. Wilson, 58, of 114 Weber Street, was reported to be slightly improved but still in "critical" condition last night at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Thursday following a car-truck collision on Old Furnace Road.

A 15-year-old Springfield, W. Va., youth, Elmer Sherman Cheney, a passenger in the truck, died instantly of a fractured skull and shock.

A truck driven by Ralph A. Robertson, 20, of Springfield, went out of control on the Old Furnace Road and crashed head-on into the car driven by Officer Wilson.

Officer Wilson's wife, Mrs. Martha Wilson, 39, is in "satisfactory" condition at Memorial Hospital. She sustained lacerations of the face and complained of chest pains.

Another passenger in the truck, Raymond Jeffries, 15, of Lonaconing was admitted to Memorial with a fractured right arm.

Robertson, who was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, for observation, has been charged with negligent homicide by motor vehicle and is being held on $500 bond. He will be given a hearing next week before Justice of the Peace Madelyn Bazzle at Keyser.

Moose Greet Regional Director

J. Jack Stoehr, Pittsburgh, regional director, past supreme governor and past supreme director of the Loyal Order of Moose, was guest of honor at an initiation, dinner and dance last night at the Moose Home, Beall Street. Left to right are Mr. Stoehr, Edward E. Habeeb, chairman of arrangements and membership director, and Ray Smith, governor of Cumberland Moose Lodge 271. The Cumberland degree team initiated a class of candidates, and there were guests present from eight area lodge.

Moose Director Lauds Growth Of Local Lodge

Emphasizing the growth and expansion of Mooseheart and Moosehaven, communities for the orphaned and the aged sponsored by the Loyal Order of Moose, J. Jack Stoehr, of Pittsburgh, Pa., regional director of the order, brought official greetings to Cumberland Lodge 271 last night.

In a series of activities at the Moose Home, arranged by Edward E. Habeeb, chairman of membership, Mr. Stoehr, past supreme governor of the order, was tendered a reception by lodge officers at 5 p. m. A dinner was served in Mr. Stoehr's honor, after which a large class of candidates was inducted.

Initiation and degree work was conducted by the Cumberland Lodge degree team, assisted by William Miller, secretary of Keyser lodge.

Regional Director Stoehr was introduced by Thomas B. Finan, city solicitor and a member of the order.

Mr. Stoehr complimented the local order on its steady growth and the renewed interest in the order here. Many members had moved but enrollment has remained above the 1,000 mark. He observed that with the expansion of business and industry in the Cumberland area, new people are coming into the community all the time. Among these, he reminded the order, will be men and women of Moose. He also said that many new members, there will be men and women interested in fraternal affiliation for the social contacts and fellowship.

Wellsburg Youth Injured In Crash

A Wellsburg, Pa., youth was admitted to Memorial Hospital here yesterday afternoon for treatment of injuries suffered in a car-truck crash on Pennsylvania Route 160.

He is Leslie L. Emerick, 20, who was being treated for severe lacerations of the left eye, left knee and right chest and multiple abrasions. His condition was "good" last night.

He was injured at 4:40 p. m. when the car he was driving alone on Wellsburg Mountain collided with a truck driven by Walter Winfield Athey, of Route 1, Berlin, Pa.

Pennsylvania State Police at Somerset are investigating.

James B. Arnold, assistant county farm agent in charge of 4-H Club work, said yesterday that the weekend program will be held at the Western Maryland 4-H Center near Bittinger.

Camp will be held from 1 p. m. Saturday, July 13 until 4 p. m. the following day. Hikes, swimming, campfire, square dance and Sunday vespers will be among the various activities.

The 4-H Junior Extension will meet on Monday at 8 p. m. at the county agent's office at the Court House here. Those desiring to go to camp may submit their registration cards and fees at the meeting.

Youths Hospitalized Following Accidents

Two persons were admitted and several persons were treated last night at the dispensary at Memorial Hospital.

Samuel James, 15, of Vocke Road, was admitted after he sustained a fractured left ankle while playing baseball.

Also admitted to the hospital was Robert Liller, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Liller, RFD 1, Keyser, W. Va. He was struck in the eye by an arrow.

Gary Twigg, 19, RFD 5, Cresaptown, was X-rayed and treated for a shoulder injury he suffered when he was knocked down by a bull on the John D. Mason farm.

The hospital also reported several persons were treated for minor lacerations and injuries.

Lawrence R. Dehn, program secretary of Central YMCA, accompanied the three delegates from the Allegany County Hi-Y Council to the Congress.

Other delegates from this county include Carol Eaton, president of the Bruce High School Tri-Hi-Y at Westport, and Carolyn Cook, Beall High School Tri-Hi-Y officer.

Employment Office Will Open July 10

Five Cities Will Get New Quarters

The local office of the Maryland Department of Employment Security will move into its new quarters here on July 10.

An open house will be held at the new office building at 239 North Mechanic Street from 4 to 6 p. m. on July 10.

Local offices of the department in Cumberland and four other Maryland cities are in the process of moving into new and larger quarters. Robert B. Kimble, executive director of the department, announced yesterday.

The moves, the last of which will be completed in early July, are taking place in Annapolis, Cambridge, Cumberland, Salisbury and Westminster.

Baltimore Unit Set

Mr. Kimble noted that the moves are part of a program to improve quarters, undertaken at the advisement of the U. S. Bureau of Employment Security, which has seen eight of the Department's full-time offices in the counties transferred to new buildings, while ten other county offices have been renovated.

Plans are also being formulated for a new building in Baltimore City which will house both the Baltimore local office and the department's central office. The latter structure is to be erected through a federal lease-purchase arrangement, under which rental payments are used to amortize the cost of construction, with title to the building reverting to the state upon amortization.

All of the new buildings in the counties are being rented under 10-year leases except the Annapolis site, on which the department will have the option after five years of renewing its lease for another five years at the same rental.

Rate Is Constant

The result of these long-term leases will be a constant rental rate on the new buildings over the next 10 years. The department formerly was faced with increases from year to year under its old practice of negotiating rentals annually.

The new county offices will be one-story brick and concrete-block structures specifically designed and constructed to meet the requirements of Employment Security operations.

Mr. Kimble said the improved facilities are expected to increase efficiency and improve services to both workers and employers, especially since the quarters being vacated were too small, outmoded or otherwise inappropriate to the work of the Department.

The new office in Annapolis is at 93 College Avenue. It comprises a total of 2,100 square feet, laid out 30 feet by 70 feet, and is being leased from the All States Corporation, 7 King Charles Place, Annapolis. J. D. Parr is president.

Buildings Are Leased

In Cambridge, the new office has been erected on the site of the former office at 101 Race Street. The lessor continues to be the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church. The structure encompasses 3,375 square feet of floor space, laid out at 53 feet by 67 feet.

The new office here comprises a total of 6,048 square feet of floor space, laid out 112 feet by 54 feet, and is being rented from the Mountaineer Corporation, 141 Baltimore Street, Cumberland. John Stewart is president.

The new building in Salisbury is at 724 East Main Street. It is being leased from E. E. Gouldman, of 308 South Clairmont Drive, Salisbury. The building consists of 3,696 square feet, laid out 88 feet by 42 feet.

In Westminster, the new structure is at 25 Liberty Street. It is being leased from Harvey B. Bair, of East Main Street, Westminster. The building contains 2,553 square feet, laid out approximately 40 feet by 60 feet.

Other activities slated next week are a picnic Wednesday at 1 p. m. and movies Thursday at dusk.

A stuffed animal show was held this week. Patrick Ritter had the largest; Gene Combs, smallest; Thomas Nield, most unusual; and Linda Stemple the prettiest animal in the show.

Home Economics Teacher Is Named For Valley High

An Osage, W. Va., resident, Miss Jo Ann Katsakis, has accepted a position as teacher of home economics at Valley High School in Lonaconing.

Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of Allegany County Schools, said yesterday she will replace Miss Virginia Bonar, who resigned at the end of this school year.

Miss Bonar will continue her graduate work at Ohio University. In June this year Miss Katsakis graduated from West Virginia University at Morgantown.

She majored in home economics and minored in social studies. Miss Katsakis was the recipient of the Danforth Fellowship home economics scholarship at the university, where she was a member of the Home Economics Honorary Society.

She did her practice teaching at University High School in Morgantown.

Army Reserve Armory Plans Are Postponed

The future of Cumberland's projected Army Reserve training center was beclouded yesterday with the announcement by an Army Corps of Engineers spokesman that the job has been indefinitely postponed.

A Pentagon source told The Associated Press that the project was deferred because of difficulty in selecting a site.

Planning for the armory was held up last year because of a difficulty in selecting a site, but the House Appropriations Committee last July set aside $175,000 for the job anyway.

Later the same month, it was announced that a site on Vocke Road had been purchased after the Corps of Engineers had completed test borings and had recommended the location.

The engineers at that time told Sen. J. Glenn Beall that work would get under way sometime this summer, possibly as early as May.

Late last month, the Corps of Engineers notified the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce it planned to issue invitations for bids. At that time, the Army Engineers made known specifications for the building and said that completion would be expected within 360 days after the contractor had been notified to proceed.

Yesterday was listed as the approximate date for opening of bids, but the Pentagon source told the AP yesterday that no notice had been received to advertise for construction bids.

Sen. Beall said he would try to learn the cause of the change in plans.

The armory had been planned as a training site for about 200 Reservists who now use the former Farmers Dairy building on West Side. The reservists formerly met and trained at the old Footer Building.

The real picture, Mr. Gibson said, will be determined more by the unused balance left at the end of the fiscal year on June 30 than by the excess revenues.

He said the unused balance may range from $30,000 to $40,000.

The city will need to have $177,000 of surplus to prime its 1957-58 budget, he said, to be on the same level as in the ending fiscal year, when $87,000 was on hand.

He said also that there will be additional maintenance costs to be faced as the flood control program is completed, as the city takes over maintenance as contracts are turned over by the Corps of Engineers.

He said the maintenance costs now total $11,500 but will rise to $60,000 when the project is completed.

Car Short Circuits

Central Fire Company was called to 81 North Centre Street yesterday at 3:21 p. m. after a short circuit exploded in the car of E. F. Breeze, Ellerslie. No damage was reported.

The weather bureau had warned the area to look for isolated severe thunderstorms with winds locally reaching 60 to 70 miles an hour between sunset and midnight.

Gusts hit Cumberland shortly before midnight, but the rain stopped soon afterward.

Signers Testify On Validity Of Petition Names

Pre-Trial Hearing Held In Bond Case

A number of local residents, whose signatures to petitions seeking a referendum in the proposed $500,000 Urban Development bond issue by the City of Cumberland had been challenged, testified yesterday afternoon in Circuit Court.

A variety of responses was heard by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and Albert A. Doubt, counsel for William A. Gouber who had filed a "friendly" suit in court in connection with the bond issue.

Some 40 petitioners were summoned by the city to ascertain validity of their signatures on the petitions. Mr. Finan directed the attention of each petitioner to his name as it appeared on the petition and asked him if it was his signature.

One resident testified that he signed his name and his wife's name to a petition after learning that the person circulating the petition was getting 10 cents for each signature.

He said he decided to give the man a "break" and signed both names with his wife's consent.

Another resident said she signed her name as well as the name of her husband, who at the time was in a Baltimore hospital, and has since died.
